Civic Association Opposes Bond for New School

Issues Not Solved on Combining

Non-Residents Are Loss Here: Rider

The Kingston Civic Association voted unanimously last night to oppose a bond issue of $2,667,500 "at this time" for the proposed construction of a new junior high school in the Dietz Stadium area.

Approximately 75 members of the association were present at the regular quarterly meeting held in the supervisors' room of the Ulster county courthouse.

It was reportedly the feeling of the group that there were still too many unresolved issues relating to consolidation and centralization to vote such an expenditure at this time.

Cites Onteora Preference

It was emphasized also that in recent votes both Woodstock and West Hurley had chosen to be affiliated with the Onteora Central School District.

W. L. Rider, chairman of the committee on education, pointed out in remarks preceding vote on the resolution, that "roughly" 36 classrooms in the Kingston school system are occupied by non-resident children at the present time. He said that of 910 junior high school students 302 are non-resident—or about 33 per cent. Of 2,036 high school students, 915 are non-resident—approximately 45 per cent.

Disagree With Theory

In theory, he said, the cost of educating non-resident pupils is paid for by tuition and state aid but "our figures lead us to believe there is a slight loss."

Kingston is experiencing a "terrific jump" in birth rate and population growth, Mr. Rider told the association. In 1945, he said, there were 383 resident births and in 1956 there were 661, an increase of 70 per cent.

"We are not disputing the fact that under present conditions we need additional classrooms," Mr. Rider stated.

Says Increase Absorbed

Mr. Rider went on to explain that rooms had been finished up in School No. 2 and that School No. 8 had been reopened. "By so doing, we have absorbed the increase up to the present time."

He pointed out, however, that within the next five years a need for an additional 20 classrooms was anticipated under present conditions. The unpredictability of a fluid situation was emphasized as basis for opposition to the proposed bond issue.

Mr. Rider pointed out further that East Kingston, Lake Katrine and Hurley are now "contemplating" a new high school

Senate Inquiry Ends

Teamster Agents Deny Violence in Scranton

Washington, April 18 (AP)—Three Teamsters Union business agents of the Scranton, Pa., local denied under oath today making threats and ordering violence as attributed to them by previous witnesses before the Senate rackets investigating committee.

Perjury Possible

With their testimony, the committee wound up its public inquiry into allegations of terrorism by union leaders in the Scranton area.

Chairman McClellan (D.-Ark.) said the entire record of the hearing would be referred to the Justice Department for a study of possible perjury.

McClellan noted the conflicting statements of persons charging acts of "terrorism" and denials by the union officials, and declared:

"It is pretty obvious that somebody is committing perjury.

Trying for Truth

"We are trying to get the truth, but we can't get the truth when witnesses come before the committee and lie."

In a last hour development, it was disclosed the committee has asked the FBI why a Virginia manufacturer who allegedly made "payoffs" has not been indicted along with union officials indicted on charges of taking the money.

The disclosure came during questioning of Joseph McHugh, one of the business agents of Teamsters Local 229 in Scranton.

McHugh said he is under federal indictment on charges of receiving several thousand dollars from E. P. Bettendorf, a former Sandston, Va., manufacturer of warehouse pallets for sale to the Tobyhanna (Pa.) Army Signal Corps Depot.

The indictment charges Mc-

Saugerties Youth Gets Scholarship From Electrol Co.

William Zeilman, salutatorian of the 1957 senior class of Saugerties High School and an outstanding member of its basketball squad, has been awarded a $2,800 scholarship by Electrol Incorporated, 85 Grand street, it was announced today by Dr. Grant D. Morse, superintendent of Saugerties Central School system.

In Honor Society

Zeilman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Zeilman of Spaulding Lane, Saugerties, is a member of the National Honor Society and the second member of the 1957 senior class to be granted a scholarship. James Erceg is the other award winner.

The Saugerties youth, who won the Electrol scholarship in competition with senior boys in all of the other Ulster county high schools, plans to study civil engineering and has been accepted for admission to the College of Engineering, Cornell University, Ithaca, Dr. Morse said.

Basketball Star

Zeilman, who has combined scholastic achievement with a brilliant career in athletics, has been very active in extra-curricular activities.

He was voted a member of the Ulster County Athletic League basketball first team for 1957 by the seven coaches in the league, and also participated in baseball, cross country and track.

Zeilman is vice-president of the senior class, president of the student council and Boys' Hi-Y, and a member of the yearbook staff. He was a representative of Saugerties Central High School to Empire Boys' State, conducted by the American Legion, last year.

A total of $6,400 in scholarships have been awarded, to date, to members of this year's graduating class, Dr. Morse said.

To Speed Collections

The schedule of rubbish trucks will be speeded up tomorrow, it has been announced by the Department of Public Works to allow crews a noon quit on Good Friday. Householders are asked to have their trash on the curbs early.

Saturday Mail Here As Usual

Court Fight Due Over Third Class

Regular Saturday mail service will be resumed this weekend at the local main post office and branches, Acting Postmaster Oscar V. Newkirk announced today, and it was announced in Washington a trade group plans to push a court fight aimed at preventing any future embargo on third class mail.

Newkirk said mail service would be resumed on its normal schedule Saturday with deliveries in rural and city areas and third class mail will be accepted.

All services except special deliveries were curtailed last weekend in compliance with a schedule announced by Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield.

Group Starts Action

The Associated Third Class Mail Users Inc., and Spencer Gifts Inc., of Atlantic City, N. J., announced yesterday in Washington it planned to push a court fight aimed at preventing any future embargo on third class mail even though such an embargo, originally scheduled as an economy move, now has been canceled, the Associated Press reported.

The embargo on third class mail was one of a series of postal service cutbacks ordered by Summerfield on grounds he needed 47 million dollars more to maintain normal operations during the last three months of this fiscal year.

Windows on Schedule

Several service reductions went into effect, but most of them were called off Tuesday after Congress voted Summerfield all but six millions of the amount he demanded.

Window service at the main post office and Rondout and uptown stations will be maintained on present schedules—9 to 5:30 p. m., Monday through Friday and 9 a. m. to 12 noon on Saturdays, according to Robert E. Meeker, assistant postmaster.

Lobby Arrangements

Lobbies at the Rondout and uptown stations will be closed Saturday afternoons but the lobby at the main post office will remain open Saturday afternoon.

Lobbies in the two stations will remain open for boxholders Sunday mornings, and the lobby at the main post office will be open for the convenience of boxholders from 8 a. m. to 2 p. m., Sundays.

The sale of money orders, rescinded in Summerfield's announcement Tuesday, will be resumed from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. at the three offices Monday through Friday and Saturday from 9 a. m. to 12 noon.

Dismisses Suit

U. S. District Judge Joseph C. McGarraghy yesterday dismissed a suit filed April 6 in Washington by the trade group in an effort to enjoin Summerfield from halting the handling of third class mail effective April 29, the Associated Press reported.

Since Summerfield has called off the embargo, McGarraghy

N. Jansen Fowler, local attorney, was elected chairman of the budget committee of the Kingston Area Community Chest at its regular monthly meeting Wednesday night.

Mr. Fowler, who has been prominent in civic affairs for many years, is an immediate past president of the Chest. He has been a member of the board of directors since inception of the Chest in May, 1954.

Mr. Fowler succeeds Edward K. Lefren, formerly works manager of Hercules Powder Co., who has been promoted and transferred to the home office of the company in Wilmington, Del.

Mr. Fowler is a member of the board of directors and attorney for the Savings and Loan Association of Kingston, a past president of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce and the Kiwanis Club and a former member of the Kingston Board of Education.

The budget committee makes recommendations to the board on all matters pertaining to budgets of member agencies. It also sets the goal of the Red Feather drive.

Restaurant And Homes Are Gutted

All Mail Rescued From Early Blaze

Fire, apparently caused by a space heater, swept through a two-story frame structure in Mt. Tremper early today and completely gutted the hamlet's post office, a restaurant and four apartments.

All mail in the post office was removed safely by Mrs. Alta De Silva, postmaster, and Mrs. Reginald Every, a part-time clerk in the office, it was reported.

Lose All Belongings

Apartment tenants escaped safely but reportedly lost all their personal and household effects and furniture.

Three fire companies — Mt. Tremper, Town of Olive and Phoenicia—still were battling the fire early this afternoon but it was reported that about 75 volunteer members "had it pretty well under control."

Chief Bernard Brinks of the Mt. Tremper Fire Department said at noon today he was unable to estimate the damage but "it's about a total loss." He said the fire was probably caused by a space heater.

Recalls Fall Incident

He noted that the Mt. Tremper department was called last fall to a fire in the same building which, Chief Brinks said, also was caused by a space heater but damage was only "slight."

The building, owned by Joseph De Agusta and know as the former Ingersol property, is located on Route 28 at the junction of the Mt. Pleasant road.

Families Listed

Apartments on the second floor were occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Justin McCarthy and their two children, Christine and Richard; Aden Chase; Mrs. Helen Breckman and her four children, only three of whom were in the house at the time fire was discovered at 8:30 a. m. They were Kenneth, Thomas and Linda. Mrs. Breckman's sister also was visiting her at the time of the fire, it was reported.

An apartment in the rear of the building was occupied by Mr. De Agusta.

Mr. McCarthy, an employe of the Kingston IBM plant, and his wife also reported loss of their wedding rings in the fire.

Discovered by Milkman

The fire was discovered at 8:30 a. m. by Jesse Smithers, a Mt. Tremper milk routeman, and two children, Jerry Byron and John Ecker, all of whom were fishing from the banks of the Esopus creek in front of the building.

It was reported that Mr. Smithers and the youngsters ran to the building and aroused the tenants in the apartments.

The restaurant, also located on the first floor, was operated by Mr. De Augusta but had been

Budget Cuts Possible: Ike

Says Congress Would Have to Revise Laws

Washington, April 18 (AP) — President Eisenhower spelled out for Congress today how it can cut appropriations by $1,858,000,000 — but he still said there can be no "substantial reduction" in actual spending unless Congress revises or repeals some laws.

300-450 Million Cut

In a letter to House Speaker Rayburn, the President listed half a dozen places for possible economies.

These, the White House said, might bring about a slash of 300 to 450 million dollars in spending in the fiscal year starting July 1.

And the President said:

'Given continuation of healthy economic growth and of fixed expenditure control, these figures combined will begin to lay a firm fiscal foundation for the time when we can be sufficiently assured that our income will so exceed our expenses as to justify a reasonable tax cut for every taxpayer while we continue to reduce the government's debt."

Eisenhower, however, laid out no timetable for a possible tax reduction.

Ask 10-Point Program

In addition to suggesting places for whacking appropriations, the President proposed that Congress take steps to improve the budgetary situation through a 10-point legislative program. Many of the points, such as boosting postal rates, he had mentioned before. But there also were new ones:

Imposition of user charges, on airlines, for example, for use of federal airway facilities and navigation aids.

Rejection of new river and harbor projects not approved by the army board of engineers and not reviewed by the affected states and all interested parties.

Governor Sends Greetings Here On A Capella Visit

Greetings from Governor George Bell Timmerman Jr., of the state of South Carolina have been exchanged with Dr. Earl F. Soper, superintendent of Kingston High School, on the occasion of the visit of the Kings-High School A Cappella choir next week to South Carolina.

Governor Timmerman extends to the group his best wishes for a "pleasant visit to our state."

Invited by Rowland

An invitation was extended some months ago to the choir to visit Camden and Chester, South Carolina, for concerts. Clarence E. Rowland, former president of the Kingston Board of Education, now a resident of Camden, extended the invitation on behalf of the people of that community. The Kingston musical group will appear twice during the week of April 21 in South Carolina where they will be entertained by public officials and school officials.

Governor's Letter

Governor Timmerman in a letter to Dr. Soper wote:

"Senator John West, of Camden, advises me that arrangements have been made for the Kingston High School A Capella to visit South Carolina during the week of April 21, 1957, and give performances at Camden and Chester.

"South Carolina will be happy to have such a visit from your group, which I understand from Senator West, is one of the finest in the east. I wish for you and

Father Denies Killing His Family Lost in Explosion

Binghamton, N. Y., April 18 (AP)—An anguished father denies he killed his family of three, lost in the shattering explosion of their home.

But Dist. Atty. Louis M. Greenblott says "there was a possibility of homicide and there still is" in the deaths of Mrs. Ella Matthews, 38, their daughter, Alma, 14, and son, Carl, 10. They were killed yesterday.

The pre-dawn blast destroyed the home.

Greenblott questioned Mrs. Matthews' husband, Woodrow, 42, in his hospital room last night. Matthews, in critical condition, suffered burns on 70 per cent of his body, which bore several puncture wounds.

The district attorney said Matthews answered "no" when asked specifically whether he had stabbed his wife and children.

Dr. Vincent M. Maddi, Broome county coroner, said an autopsy on the bodies disclosed cuts and wounds in the chest made by "a sharp instrument."

Greenblott, referring to Matthews' statement, said he was "a little suspicious of the story. . ."

"I've had an open mind from the beginning," he said. "There was a possibility of homicide and there still is. Don't forget, this statement was made by a man under heavy sedation lying face down who is dying."

Greenblott said yesterday, hours after the explosion and before he visited Matthews' bedside, that he believed there was a "possibility of homicide."

The explosion reduced the two-story frame house to rubble. Two nearby homes were blackened by fire that followed.

The district attorney quoted Matthews as saying the explosion was an accident.

Small Corporations Must Pay Tax, Harriman Rules

Albany, N. Y., April 18 (AP)—Gov. Harriman's veto of a Republican bill means that New York's small business corporations will have to pay their full franchise tax, after all.

The Democratic governor wiped out prospects for a tax reduction yesterday. He rejected a GOP "program" bill that proposed a $350,000 total cut for approximately 70,000 small corporations that pay the $25 minimum tax.

The measure would have cut the minimum levy to $20.

"Since 1930 there has been no objection to this minimum franchise fee, "Harriman said in his veto message. "It is a meaningless gesture to propose at this time the reduction of this fee . . ."

The tax is due May 15 for corporations that operate on a calendar-year basis. Those operating on a fiscal-year plan must pay 3½ months after the fiscal year ends.

The measure was among dozens that the governor acted upon yesterday. Today he signed 20 more bills and vetoed four.

Among those he approved was a bill granting a special allowance to state institution chaplains who are not furnished a residence. The allowance will be 10 per cent of annual salary.

He vetoed two measures affecting town governments. One would have allowed towns to contract with any city or village for police protection. Another would have authorized them to acquire property for off-street parking areas and garages.

The corporation-tax bill was part of the GOP's $1,690,000 tax relief program for small businesses.

Last month, Harriman signed the companion measure, granting a $1,340,000 total tax cut for unincorporated businesses. The bill provided for a maximum individual reduction of $35.

The Democratic governor had proposed his own plan for cutting unincorporated businesses taxes, but his legislation was killed in Republican-controlled

Lanza Parole Public Hearings To Start No Later Than 28th

New York, April 18 (AP)—The Joseph (Socks) Lanza parole case will get a public airing no later than April 29, a special joint legislative committee says.

The Legislature's Republican-controlled watchdog committee voted yesterday to hold public hearings in New York.

Lanza was picked up as a violator Feb. 5. He was released and reinstated to parole two weeks later by Parole Commissioner James R. Stone, an appointee of Democratic Gov. Averell Harriman.

Lanza, chunky 51-year-old former union labor boss of the Fulton Fish Market here, had been paroled from a 7½ to 15 year term for extortion. Lanza has been sent back to jail, pending a complete parole board review of his case.

Stone, a Democrat, resigned March 30 at the request of Arthur L. Reuter, acting state investigation commissioner. Since then, Republicans and Democrats have traded charges about who was responsible.

The watchdog committee—officially known as the joint legislative committee on government operations—is manned by a majority of Republican members.

Commissioner Reuter, on behalf of the Democratic state administration, is conducting a secret inquiry into the Lanza case along lines parallel to the watchdog committee's probe.

Assemblyman William F. Horan, Westchester Republican who heads the watchdog committee, said that Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck, Schenectady Republican, moved for open hearings and that Democratic members seconded the motion.

WINS A BRIDE—Charles Van Doren, who turned down marriage proposals from hundreds of women when he was the nation's television quiz champion, married his 22-year-old secretary, Geraldine Ann Bernstein, at St. Thomas, Virgin Islands. It was the first marriage for both and probably will save the 31-year-old university teacher about $20,000 in Federal income tax on the $129,000 he won on television last March. Here, the two are shown in New York on March 26, 1957. (NEA Telephoto)

Mayor Urges All to Attend Constitution Program Here

Mayor Frederick H. Stang today proclaimed Saturday, April 20 as "Constitution Day," here and he urged "all our people to attend the ceremonies in the New York National Guard Armory at 12:30 p. m. "in special observance of this historic occasion."

It is not necessary, the mayor said, "to remind the citizens of our city of the important role Kingston has played in the founding of the government of the State of New York."

The drama of the history in April, 1777, he said, is "well known to all of us," and "we feel a great sense of pride in the association of our city with the very beginning of this nation of ours, first as a colony, and later as a republic."

The mayor said the city was proud that the document was signed here, and "We eagerly look forward to seeing it on display in our city."

Weekly Food Review

(By The Associated Press)

The traditional Easter ham will be featured in many of the nation's supermarkets and neighborhood grocery stores this weekend, but the pink pork product will have to share the spotlight with turkey.

Ham long was the No. 1—and just about the only—selection of the supermarket meat men for the Easter weekend. In recent years, however, turkeys have been more and more popular with shoppers. Meat men theorize that women like the new smaller, ready-to-cook birds.

Big Turkey Crop

Whatever the reason, the nation's turkey population, and consumption, are growing steadily. Last year's crop was a record, and the rate at which poults are being hatched indicates the 1957 crop will top 1956's by even more than the 10 per cent gain intended by farmers in January.

A few stores also will feature beef this weekend, and some markets in coastal areas will have fish available at special prices for seafood fanciers.

Eggs Irregular

Housewives looking for eggs to color as well as eat will find prices somewhat irregular. Eggs are a penny or two higher a dozen in some areas, lower by the same margin in other areas.

Vegetable counters still are featuring outstanding buys in turnips, carrots, beets, parsnips and potatoes from last fall's storage crops.

As spring comes on across the country, these crops gradually are replaced by fresh produce from nearby fields, augmenting shipments from warmer growing areas. This week spinach from nearby fields is a good buy in some areas, to go along with California asparagus and new cabbage and sweet corn from Florida.

Vegetable Buys

Other good busy are film-bag carrots, cauliflower, eggplant, onions, peppers and such salad ingredients as chicory, escarole and radishes. Iceberg lettuce from Arizona is more plentiful this week and should be a good buy, too, produce me say.

Broccoli, yellow and green squash and cucumbers are a bit more expensivse this week in most places.

Fruit counters still have California navel oranges, as well as several late varieties of Florida oranges and grapefruit, on their good buy list. Albermarle Pippin apples from Virginia bolster supplies of apples from other Eastern and far western orchards. Most of the imported melons, grapes, apples and pears are no better than moderate in price.

THROUGH GRACE

Holy Jesus here we bow
At Thy Cross we offer now
Prayers and Litanies of love
Hear and bless us from above.

We will e'er be kind and true
In serving Thee and others too
Then when our last hour arrives
Take us to Thee through Grace, on high.

Ship Awaits Tug

Dartmouth, England, April 18 (AP)—The Mayflower II was anchored today in a dreary mist at the mouth of the Dart river, waiting to be towed the second short leg of her trip to America. A coastal tug last night towed the little wooden replica of the Pilgrims' sailing ship the 10 miles from Brixham, where she was built. But the Mayflower's skipper, Cmdr. Allan Villiers, was having trouble finding a seagoing craft to pull his ship the 32 miles to Plymouth, official starting point for his trans-Atlantic sailing voyage.

Search Pressed For Missing Son Of Italian Envoy

Chicago, April 18 (AP)—Police pressed their search today for an Italian diplomat's missing 14-year-old son as the father reiterated his fears that the boy may have been kidnaped.

Police said a taxicab driver reported he believed a youth he picked up in the Loop last night was the missing boy, Vittorio Barattieri. The cab driver, Mark Holt, told police he recognized the boy after he got home and saw Barattieri's picture in a newspaper.

Holt said he took the youth to a near north side street, not far from the Italian Consulate, 1520 N. State Parkway, where the missing boy's father, Count Ludoico Barattieri di San Pietro is the Italian consul-general in Chicago.

Vittorio has been missing since Tuesday morning when he left home to attend classes at Loyola Academy, on the far north side, where he is a sophomore.

"He is not the kind of boy to run away," Barattieri said. "It is possible he may have been lured away and is being held against his will."

Fate of 9 Concealed In Overturned Barge

New Orleans, April 18 (AP)—An overturned oil drilling barge concealed the fate of nine missing crewmen today as grim workmen prepared to enter the tomb-like hull.

The barge "Golden Meadow No. 7" capsized yesterday in the Gulf of Mexico while under tow near the mouth of the Mississippi river. Rescuers picked up six members of the 15-man crew.

A terse radio message from the scene reached the Coast Guard shortly before midnight. It said:

"Boat with cutting equipment at scene with lights at 9:30 p. m. Nine men missing. Five in rig and four unaccounted for. Work secured until daylight. Standing by, south pass."

'Last Resort' Plan

Tallahassee, Fla., April 18 (AP)—The so-called "last resort" plan to stop integration by suspending public schools got off to a running start yesterday with full backing of a Senate committee. The idea is fostered by Atty. Gen. Richard Ervin and provides in effect that local options may be held in any part of Florida where race mixing in schools is a possibility. Ervin told the Senate Committee on Governmental Reorganization his plan is one to "try to save the schools" and "safety valve" in legal efforts to halt integration. He also called it a "last resort" in stopping integration.

In case of inclement weather, the service will be held in the local church sanctuary.

Easter Worship

"Christ the Lord is Risen Today!" These words will be resounding all over the world Sunday in Christian Churches. In the local New Paltz Methodist Church following the 7 a. m. sunrise service, services of worship will be conducted at 8:30 and 11 a. m. Kenneth Davis, local preacher, will be in charge of the 8:30 service and will preach a sermon entitled "What Shall We Do With Jesus?"

At 11 a. m. the Easter service of worship will be conducted by the Rev. Mr. Porter, with a sermon being preached entitled "The Transforming Power of the Resurrection." The Cherub and Junior Choirs will sing under the direction of Mrs. Frank Brown and Mrs. Francis Has-Brouck respectively. The senior choir will also sing special music with Mrs. Eugene Trautwein at the Wicks Memorial organ. New members will be received into the fellowship of the church at this service, with a class of 14 young people being confirmed, including Joan Bollen, Martha Gruner, William Gruner, Theodore Kroger, Jr., Robert Martin, Richard, Phillips, Linda Ronk Frederick Ruger, William Schoonmaker, Herbert Van Valkenburgh, Dennis Winfield, Edward Thompson, Joseph Ronk, and Gary Winfield.

Adult members will also be received on profession of faith and by letter of transfer.

Custody Fight Moves

Tallahassee, Fla., April 18 (AP)—The fight over custody of 6-year-old Hildy McCoy moved to Florida today. Gov. Foster Furcolo of Massachusetts asked that this state return Mr. and Mrs. Melvin B. Ellis, formerly of Brookline, to the North to face a charge of kidnaping Hildy, who has lived with them since she was a month old. The Ellises, who are Jewish, have been unable to adopt Hildy because of a religious provision in the Massachusetts adoption law. The child's mother, Mrs. Marjorie McCoy, a Catholic, has sought for five years to regain her daughter. When the Massachusetts Supreme Court ruled that the Ellises could not keep Hildy, they went to Miami Beach, Fla., where they since have employed attorneys Ben Cohen, who is Jewish, and John Lloyd, a Catholic, to represent them.

LIFT FOR AIR SAFETY

First look at President Eisenhower's proposed air safety program gives rise to hope that it may approach in magnitude the scale of the safety problem itself.

The program is the work of the President's aviation planning group headed by Edward P. Curtis, vice president of the Eastman Kodak Company. It reflects intensive study over a span of several months.

The group is agreed that rules governing air traffic must be drastically revised to reduce or eliminate the mounting menace of mid-air collisions and to cope with the demands of coming jet planes. Recent surveys show that near misses are continuing on U. S. airlanes at a rate of four a day.

To manage the available air space in a way which will wipe out this peril and adequately safeguard aircraft capable of flying 600 miles an hour, the President recommends a network of "aerial superhighways" with segregated traffic. Thus certain lanes would be set aside for high-speed planes, others for intermediate aircraft, and so on.

This could be an important contribution to air safety, since evidence indicates that the most common danger of collision arises from fast planes overtaking slower craft. Poor cockpit visibility of course plays a part in such incidents.

There is the very critical problem, too, of congestion in and around major airports in New York, Chicago, Washington, Los Angeles and similar centers.

Obviously the President's group does not have the final answer to this and many other matters. In consequence Mr. Eisenhower is urging creation of a strongly independent airways modernization board to coordinate and advance air safety research.

This agency would be given power over all present military and civilian research projects in aviation. It would have its own facilities for experimenting with electronic and other traffic control aids, including a special airport and perhaps 100 aircraft of all types.

The Curtis group has reported quickly, thoroughly and imaginatively on a painfully serious national problem. Congress should do it and the President honor by acting on the proposed program in similar fashion. The jet age in commercial travel is but a year and a half away. And the consequences of delay could be written out in air-cash casualty lists.

CAR OF TOMORROW

Detroit is forever turning out experimental cars. Usually they are longer, lower, faster, more daring in exterior design than anything yet seen on the highways. They are generally hailed as the car of the future, or the car of the day after day after tomorrow, or something such.

Engineers at Cornell University's aeronautical laboratory also have designed an experimental car. It is somewhat different from the Detroit models. It is not longer, lower, faster, et cetera. But it is safer than anything now on the road. It is, in fact, a practical result of what has been learned from intensive study of how to reduce injury in automobile collisions.

In the Cornell safety auto, driver and passengers sit in bucket seats. All are equipped with safety belts, the driver's belt also doubling as a control panel. The car is equipped with accordion-type doors which bolt closed. Its ventilating system keeps inside air pressure slightly higher than outside to seal out carbon monoxide.

All instruments have automatic alarm lights, so that the driver need not pay any attention to them unless the lights flash on. The auto's roof is braced with steel bars to prevent crushing in overturns. The bumper, attached to the chassis with shock absorbers, goes clear around the car. Even pedestrians get a break; there are few exterior protruberances to snag the unwary.

The Cornell experimental auto may not be the car of the future. Detroit might well consider incorporating some of its features, however, in those longer, lower cars of tomorrow.

THE POSTS

When President Eisenhower said that we cannot go back to 1890, he might have had the Post Office in mind. In 1890, the mails were delivered with dutiful regularity and although the Post Office suffered a deficit, it was only $6,000,000 which today would be a mere bagatelle, chicken feed which we throw to the very small nations as an assist to remain alive.

The controversy between Postmaster Arthur E. Summerfield and the Congress over his deficit involves much more than the delivery of the mails. It involves the very nature of constitutional government, as it is only Congress which may decide how much the government or any agency is permitted to spend and an official is supposed to cut his cloth accordingly. Postmaster Summerfield found himself in his fourth quarter overspent and demanded that Congress give him exactly what he wanted or there would be no mails on a Saturday. In a sturdier era, he would have been impeached for such a violation of his responsibilities and contempt for Congress, but these days even members of Congress avoid quarreling with petty as well as great executives, no matter what the Congress holds to be correct.

Actually, no one suffered very great distress because of Summerfield's act of sabotage, except perhaps the letter carriers who, if the five day week becomes a precedent, could suffer a pay cut, which could lead to a strike which might tie up the mails longer than over a weekend. This particular Saturday, when Postmaster Summerfield chose to close the windows of the post offices to prove that he is bigger than Congress, is the day on which many citizens register their income tax payments. It is wise to send such documents and checks by registered mail because things do get lost in the mails and it may be necessary to prove that the payment was sent lest some devil crack down and charge six per cent for tardiness.

They may do it anyhow because in our government the right hand never knows what the left hand does and the Treasury would surely not accept the Summerfield sabotage as an excuse for delayed payments. So the citizens lined up on Monday to get their "registered return receipt required" slips of paper which have probably not been changed since 1890 despite President Eisenhower's dislike for that year. Personally, I have no such dislike, having been born subsequently, in the year of the great panic which must have been pretty awful from all I hear tell, but the mails were delivered just the same because it was regarded as a duty so to do.

I also notice that when Postmaster Summerfield determined to teach Congress and the people a lesson not to interfere with his prerogatives, he excluded the White House and various government agencies from his interdict. This smacks of monarchical toadying and ought not to be tolerated in what is bruited about as a democracy. If the rule is "no mails!", then nobody should get any. The Constitution does not say anything about the business of the White House being any more important than the business of the lowliest among us, and astonishing as it may be, our Founding Fathers believed that all men were created equal which may have been fallacious as it was a doctrine accepted before 1890 and even before the Republican Party went so modern that it is indistinguishable from the New Deal.

It would not be astonishing if Henry Wallace were resurrected from his farm to direct foreign aid, for whereas his ideas on the subject were ridiculed brutally when he first enunciated them, they are now a normal and usual policy of government, the idea now being that not only should every Fiji islander be required to drink a bottle of homogenized milk but also that he must read "The New York Times" at the American taxpayers' expense, even if milk is distasteful to him and even if he has been the happiest of happy men because he cannot read at all.

There is one advantage in not receiving the mails on a Saturday. One can avoid for two days instead of one the burning temptation of looking at myriad mimeographed sheets from government and other press agents, all designed to confuse and confound. "Remember the Sabbath Day and keep it holy!"

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

MILTOWN IN RHEUMATIC DISEASES

There is a great deal of interest lately in what are called loosely the "tranquilizers"—drugs used to quiet down the hostile or aggressive patient so that he may be reached for treatment by other measures such as psychotherapy. These drugs are also being tried in many other conditions as is always the case when a comparatively new type is brought forward. For example, insulin has been found of great value in other conditions besides diabetes. Similarly, cortisone has been found of great value in a variety of conditions including skin eruptions as well as in arthritis.

Dr. Richard T. Smith and associates of the Department of Rheumatology, Benjamin Franklin Clinic, Philadelphia, have studied the properties of the tranquilizing or ataraxic drug, meprobamate (Miltown), in the treatment of rheumatic diseases, particularly fibrositis. Fibrositis is inflammation of the white fibrous tissue of the body, as seen in chronic rheumatism. "Meprobamate has been loosely classified as a tranquilizing drug but this does not seem to be the correct grouping for it since its activity is more pronounced as a muscle relaxant than as a tranquilizing preparation. From our experience, the muscle relaxation often brings about relief of tension and excitation.'"

These research physicians have treated a total of 252 patients since June, 1954, including patients with osteoarthritis, rheumatoid arthritis, gout, fibrositis, muscle spasm of the low back, and bursitis. Meprobamate was given three or four times a day as a 400 mg. compressed, scored tablet. The dosage was reduced to one-half tablet, 200 mg., if any evidence of mild or moderate intolerance was observed.

What were the results? Satisfactory relief of muscle stiffness and pain was achieved in 83.3 per cent of the patients with excellent results in 120 patients and good results in 90. Patients with only fair response were not classified as improved. The response was called excellent when the patient showed evidence of muscle relaxation within 20 to 30 minutes after taking the drug with the benefit continuing throughout the day on a program of additional tablets given three or four times a day. The results were classified as good if just slight symptoms of stiffness persisted after 60 minutes.

Patients with fibrositis responded exceptionally well and if the drug could be taken 30 to 60 minutes before arising in the morning, most patients were able to start their activity with practically no evidence of symptoms or, if some stiffness remained, it passed off within a few minutes with exercise.

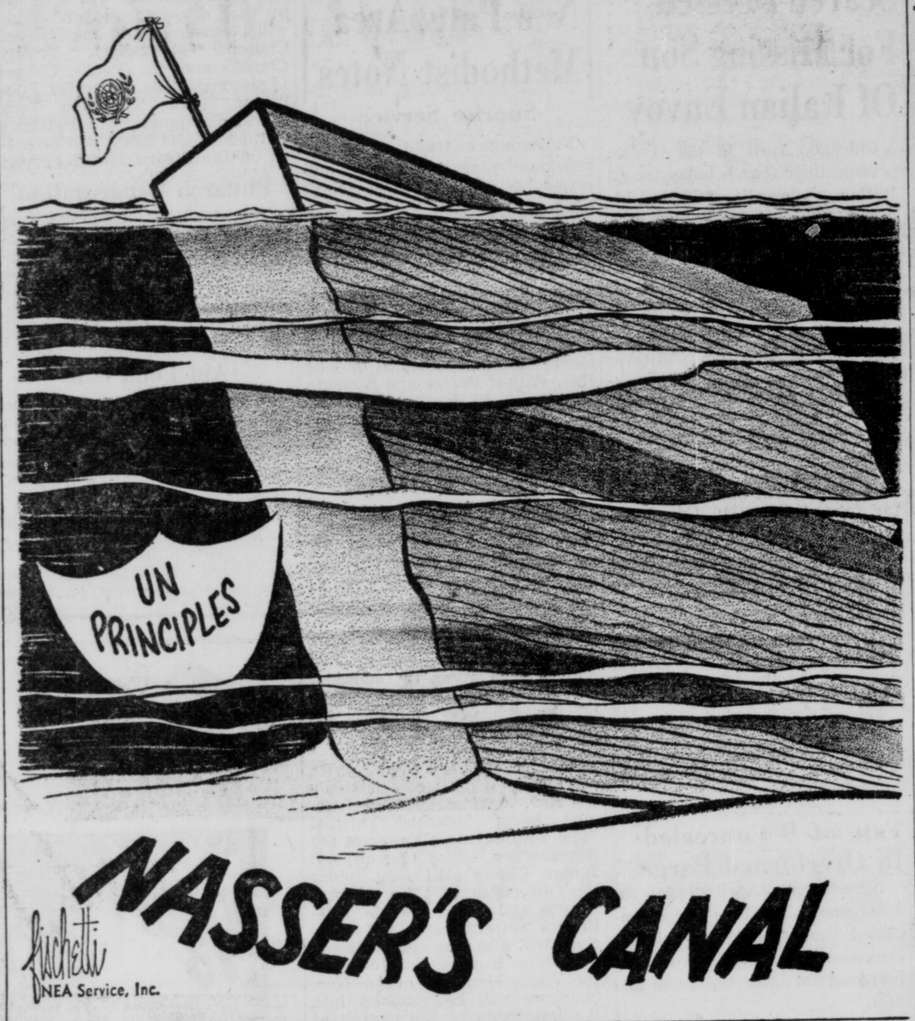

Although drowsiness occures fairly frequently with full doses of this preparation, when mild it most often disappears without reducing the dosage. If it is more severe, the dosage may be decreased by 50 per cent, with generally good muscle-relaxing properties as well as relief of the drowsiness. In conclusion, "Meprobamate is one of the best drugs presently available to the medical profession to produce relaxation of voluntary muscle spasm without associated of loss of strength and function."

Correction: The Canal Has NOT Been Cleared

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA) — Nerve-wracked American parents — hardened to tripping over stray roller skates, doll baby carriages, other wheeled toy implements of torture and model airplanes —will soon have a new obstacle to hurdle in the home's darkened halls.

It will be a working, scale-model rocket or guided missile. Not just a toy imitation, but a real, live, for-sure-enough job that will go 100 feet when properly charged and triggered.

This was one of the more surprising sidelights coming from the American Rocket Society's Washington meeting in cherry-blossom time.

Athelstan F. Spilhaus, dean of the Institute of Technology, University of Minnesota, touched off this prospect in his address to the Rocket Society's final banquet.

DR. SPILHAUS was in Washington primarily to talk about the use of rockets and satellites for observations of the sun and outer space during the International Geophysical Year 1957-58.

Most of the time he was 'way over the heads of common folk with talk of the third dimension of geophysics, synoptic views from space satellites and such. But he got right down to earth and the family hearthstone when he spilled over into the youth division, or junior grade department of high science.

He noted with approval the growth of amateur rocket societies throughout the country. The one closest to his own home is the Minnesota Amateur Rocket Society. Its initials spell out the word MARS, which is where the young geniuses are unquestionably headed when they grow up.

Requirements for MARS membership are that each applicant be at least 12 years old and shall have built a rocket that has soared at least 100 feet.

This new development in the toy and family prodigy division would seem to be heading the model airplane industry right into obsolescence, if not outright oblivion.

A TOY ROCKET that will go 100 feet, one-third of a block, need be no bigger than a small baseball bat. But it takes on chemical fuels, it makes smoke and fire and it can go bang. For anyone who gets in the trajectory of a toy rocket, the consequences can be almost dire.

But does this alarm the grown-up scientists any? Not on somebody's else's life. They seem to think that rocket clubs should be encouraged. For fun and frolic, they are said to beat all hollow the Boy Scout test of cooking a hot supper over a fire of wet wood which has been kindled with not more than two (2) matches.

A model rocket, says Dr. Spilhaus, is certainly not more dangerous than fireworks. A model rocket is a lot less lethal than junior's stripped-down hot-rod sports car, or an older, high school group's game of "chicken" in the family station wagon.

Successive generations of long-suffering parents may scream that rockets will be merely a new form of infantile self-destruction.

IT HAS TAKEN 50 years to bring fireworks under control and make Fourth of July reasonably safe and sane. The old-fashioned sky rocket has been all but outlawed as a community fire hazard. The Roman candle, snake-in-the-grass, pin wheel and flower pot have been banned as definitely not for children to play with—only firemen and policemen.

As for the automobile, safe-driving campaigns do seem to be catching on a little, since the White House has set an example.

But now along comes science to lead flaming youth astray in outer space with juvenile rocket clubs.

Youth must be served, admittedly. But any self-respecting parent may well ask where it will all end.

"I hope these serious rocket clubs of teen-agers may in some way be encouraged with necessary safeguards," says Dr. Spilhaus—himself the father of five.

"I hope this exciting motivation will not be banned because of hazard, but rather that the hazard will be controlled so the children will be in no greater danger than walking the ridge-pole of a barn in our own younger days."

How's that again? No more dangerous than what?

Cut in Funds for USIA By House Is Termed 'Tragic'

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, April 18—Billions for war, but a mere pittance for the dissemination of ideas that could influences peoples abroad, restrain capricious rulers and prevent war! That's the curious result of the "meat-ax" methol of cutting the budget which seems to have been adopted by the Democratic party that controls Congress today.

The proposed cost of armament runs to $38,000,000,000. It is a vital part of the Federal budget, because it is counted on to help deter potential enemies from attacking the United States and its allies.

But less than one-third of 1 per cent of what is being spent for armament now has been appropriated by the House of Representatives for the United States Information Agency, which has the main responsibility for transmitting the American viewpoint on peace throughout the world.

$38,000,000 Cut

A cut of $38,000,000 just made by the House of Representatives leaves the United States Information Agency $106,000,000 for next year. This is $7,000,000 less than was voted for the current year. Yet the problems of the Middle East and the Far East are no less critical than they were, and the task of cementing relations with our allies in Europe has not by any means diminished in importance.

In an atomic age it is imperative that peoples everywhere should influence their governments to refrain from precipitating a world war. But peoples must have the facts and the information on which to form judgments. Any one who has the slightest knowledge of how difficult it is to penetrate the public opinion of foreign countries realizes the enormous task that faces the United States Information Agency.

Russia's Billions

Soviet Russia spends billions where America spends a few millions in communicating with other peoples especially in the areas of most strategic importance.

The United States is relatively new at the business of exporting ideas. Some mistakes have been made—but not as many perhaps as in the doling out of billions to foreign governments to help rehabilitate their economic structures since World War 2.

The objective—to prevent the spread of international communism — is admitted everywhere in Washington to be worth while. But when it comes to supplying the necessary funds to carry on that phase of the "cold war," Congress seems indifferent.

This is not because of partisanship alone. There are other factors. One is the lack of familiarity of members of Congress themselves with the many influences that are operative every day in foreign lands to check American diplomacy and threaten the defeat of our efforts to win the friendship of other peoples.

The Soviet auxiliaries among the intellectuals are numerous in many countries, and the press is actually controlled by agents of Moscow in various parts of the world where the United States Information Service is trying to offset Communist propaganda. It's a battle that America cannot afford to lose, and it takes money to fight that kind of warfare.

Texts Distributed

The United States Information Agency makes available free, for instance, the texts of important American pronouncements of policy because the newspapers abroad couldn't possibly afford to pay the heavy costs of cable tolls to get those speeches transmitted. There are literally dozens of other worthwhile projects which are designed to inform the peoples abroad concerning America's peaceful intentions and her humanitarian interests in the welfare of other nations. Instead of encouraging this work, Congress is shortsightedly discouraging it.

Unfortunately, some members of Congress set themselves up as expert judges of how the United States Information Agency should be conducted. It is, of course, a specialized field. The hearings recently held show a woeful lack of knowledge by many members of congress of what it is important to do to win the "cold war."

Ignorance of U. S.

It is shocking to any American who travels abroad to discover how little is known about the United States even in the English-speaking countries. Very few newspapers and periodicals are sent from America to other countries — only a few thousands here and there. The vast population of the rest of the world has a scant knowledge of America's purposes and policies. As a consequence, the distortions distributed by the Communists have to be challenged again and again. If Congress doesn't furnish the necessary money to the United State Information Agency, the growth of anti-American sentiment will go unchecked.

Ideas are transmitted in modern systems of communication in a variety of ways. The printed word is important, but so also are radio and television and motion pictures. Many millions who are illiterate may not be able to read books or newspapers, but they do look at movies. The potentialities of the various means of communication are limitless. Yet the House of Representatives has actually cut down the program of the United States Information Agency and evidently prefers to give a clear field to the Communists in this "cold war." Will the Senate do likewise?

What the House has just done is a tragic development — a failure to recognize that war can be prevented only by getting peoples to reject the policies of dictators and by winning the hearts and minds of peoples. Ideas are plentiful, but money to convey them is almost as necessary as any other deterrent force.

Congress Takes Little Final Action

Ike Must Fight or See His Programs Complete Wreck

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

Washington, April 18 (AP)—These first 3½ months of 1957 in Washington have been as bleak as any in recent memory.

Congress is moving like a flat tire, going its own way, paying little attention to President Eisenhower who has done practically no fighting for his programs. And some of his pet ones are in jeopardy.

His own official family has seemed divided—and at times to be talking out of both sides of its mouth—on how much money he needs to spend. He asked Congress to approve a record, peacetime budget of nearly 72 billion dollars.

He has proclaimed his "new Republicanism." But whatever that philosophy is, it isn't being bought by some of his own Republicans, including his brother Edgar who criticized the President's ideas on spending.

Must Fight Hard

Maybe after the Easter holiday Eisenhower will take a firmer grip on the Ship of State and fight for what he wants. From the look of things he'll have to, unless he wants to see his budget and his programs wind up a tattered wreck.

Congress has taken little final action on anything so far this year. The House has voted sharp cuts in Eisenhower's budget, but the Senate hasn't started on the money bills. Eisenhower's federal aid to education program looks dead for the year. His civil rights bill is hung up in committees of both Houses.

Faces Trouble in Senate

The House will probably okay his ideas on civil rights. But if it ever passes the Senate—and it probably won't—the southern Democrats may have so watered it down as to render it meaningless.

And Eisenhower — except for saying he wants almost 4½ billion dollars for it—hasn't even offered his foreign aid program yet. He's to do that after Easter.

The President has probably fought harder to keep Congress off the neck of this country's overseas propaganda organ—the U. S. Information Agency—than for anything else he's presented to the lawmakers this year.

Larson Fails to Convince

He asked 144 millions for it. Three times he appealed to the House not to reduce the figure. But it cheerfully did—down to 106 millions, or 7 million less than the USIA got last year.

Even Arthur Larson, the agency's head, was unpersuasive, although Larson, who is sort of unofficial philosopher for the administration, wrote a whole book on the subject of the "New Republicanism."

So far the House has slashed 1¼ billions off Eisenhower's 72 billion dollar budget. The cutting is far from over. And the Senate still has to take a crack at it. The Senate is full of Democrats and Republicans who want to put an ax to certain items.

Even some of Eisenhower's own Republican leaders — like Sen. Knowland of California — want the budget chopped down. For a while early this year Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey seemed to be of the same mind.

Creates Confusion

He talked of the possibility Congress could lop several billions off the President's budget on the very day Eisenhower unveiled it. This created some confusion until Humphrey backpedaled and got twice as vague as he was before.

In the end, when the ax hit the money request for his own department, he had second thoughts on economy and asked that some of the money be restored.

That's exactly what Secretary of Commerce Weeks did—when the House voted cuts in the Commerce Department's funds — although previously Weeks had almost dared, besides urging, Congress to economize.

In the midst of all this Eisenhower steadily seems to be losing whatever control he had over the conservative wing of the Republican party. For instance: Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

Goldwater not only scorns the New Republicanism but predicts an early death for it.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

New York, (AP)—A man here who wears two hats feels he has a simple cure for the nation's juvenile delinquency.

"It would be cut 75 per cent if every boy in America went through military reserve training," said Alfred G. ("Tubby") Tuckerman.

When he puts on one hat, Tuckerman, who started his business career as a clerk, is a partner in William E. Hill & Co., a top Manhattan management consultant firm.

When he puts on his other hat, Tuckerman, who began his military career as a private, is the two-star general who commands the 77th Infantry Division. It is one of 10 "ready reserve" divisions in the United States equipped for almost immediate combat duty in the event of mobilization.

Why should a boy of 17 or 18 join the Army Reserve? Wouldn't it be better to wait and gamble on the draft?

Tuckerman, who enlisted himself in 1918 and feels his own business success springs largely from the results of military training, says no.

His Advice

He points out that, if drafted, a youth has to serve a full two years on active duty, plus four years in the reserves. The same youth, if he enlists in the reserve program, has to spend only six months on active duty, can work out the rest of his obligation to Uncle Sam by spending one night a week at a reserve training center and attending two-week summer drills.

"It really does the kids good," he said. "It often provides them a career incentive at a period of life when they are unsure of themselves and uncertain of their future goals.

"They can elect their specialty, and get a basic grounding in such fields as administrative routine, radio, electronics, radar, atomic energy, or motor maintenance.

"They also learn other things they don't pick up on the streets —such things as discipline, respect for property, law and order, pride in themselves, and a devotion to duty.

"A boy who learns these things isn't likely to wind up a juvenile delinquent."

Troops Always Essential

Unlike many reserve officers, Tuckerman doesn't soft-pedal the military aspect of reserve training. He feels that, even in the event of atomic war, trained ground troops will always be essential. And he stresses the survival benefits that proper training gives in combat.

"If little Johnny isn't trained, you can just about cross him off," he said. "He isn't likely to come home.

"A trained man is five times as likely to escape death or wounding as an untrained man."

Real Decorated Soldier

On this point Maj. Gen. Tuckerman can speak with considerable authority. He commanded a regiment in the Pacific in the last war, won the combat infantryman's badge, the air medal ,the bronze star with two clusters, and the silver star for bravery.

He got the silver star on Luzon during the Philippine campaign when he organized a force of two tanks and a squad of dismounted cavalrymen and destroyed an enemy force that had driven to within 200 yards of his brigade headquarters.

Tuckerman, still athletic at 55, is active socially and a vice president of the board of the National Horse Show Assn.

This is his summary of the civilian benefits of military training:

"It teaches you to analyze a problem, organize a solution, sell that solution to others verbally, and get it carried out.

"It also teaches you how to get along with other people, the fine art of human relations and" — here General Tuckerman grinned — "something you need to know in both business and warfare: When to take proper evasive action."

Schroon, Lake, N. Y., April 18 (AP)—A lighted cigarette is believed to have caused a forest fire that destroyed 25 acres of woodland and threatened four buildings about six miles from here.

The fire, which started Tuesday near Paradox Lake, was brought under control by volunteer firefighters yesterday.

Fire Warden Edwin Garfield said he believed a passing motorist had tossed a cigarette into a field.

Millard Treadway, 34, a fireman from nearby Chilsan, was pinned to the ground by a tree that fell. He suffered injuries to the hip and left leg.

Washington, April 18 (AP)—A Senate Appropriations subcommittee has been asked to restore nearly four-million dollars cut by the House from the $43,990,000 requested by President Eisenhower for Indian Health activities.

The $3,990,000 cut would "bring to a halt planned improvements designed to provide better and more health services to the Indian people," Dr. James R. Shaw, chief of the division of Indian Health Activities in the Public Health Service, said yesterday.

Shaw said the reduction would require the Public Health Service to curtail its services despite the known backlog of illness and disability among the Indian population.

Ice Situation Eases

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., April 18 (AP)—Upbound and downbound convoys, each with 15 ships, started moving through Whitefish Bay last night as the ice situation eased considerably. The U. S. Coast Guard today reduced from 2,000 horsepower to 1,400 horsepower the minimum for ships traveling through icy sections of the Great Lakes. The two convoys, consisting mainly of ore carriers, were the largest of the young 1957 shipping season.

Reds Pay Bohlen Parting Tribute

April 18 (AP)—U. S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen left Moscow today on a plane so big it made the Russians gasp. He is flying to the United States en route to a new assignment as ambassador to the Philippines.

Moscow's diplomatic corps overflowed the airport building in a farewell tribute to Bohlen's acknowledged leadership of the western diplomatic colony during his four years as ambassador.

The Soviet government sent only a protocol officer to see Bohlen off, despite a warm tribute paid the departing envoy last night by Communist Party boss Nikita Khrushchev.

A giant U. S. Air Force C124 Globemaster—the United States' biggest troop transport plane—came from Germany to pick up Bohlen, his family, and eight other embassy officials. The plane can carry more than 200 troops.

State Could Lose $2,300,000 if Cut Made by Congress

Albany, N. Y., April 18 (AP)—The State Social Welfare Board says New York and its local welfare departments would lose $2,300,000 in aid if Congress slashes federal welfare assistance fund allotments.

Congress now is considering a deficiency appropriations bill that would limit the amount of aid that can be used to cover administrative costs of welfare programs.

The board, in a statement yesterday, said the loss in federal aid to the state and its local welfare units would be approximately $400,000 in the April-June quarter this year and about $1,900,000 in fiscal 1958.

The statement said that because the state and local governments had prepared their budgets for the new fiscal year, financial difficulties would result.

Earlier this month, Gov. Harriman protested to key congressmen on the new restrictions in the appropriations bill.

Jewish CC Mental Health Forum Is Set April 25

The Jewish Community Center annual forum on mental health will be held on Thursday, April 25 at 8:30 p. m. The subject this year will be Kingston's mental health program, "Where We Go From Here."

Following the approval of the Board of Supervisors of the Mental Health Act at the local level and the appointment of a Mental Health Board, the forum panelists will attempt to outline the next steps. Included on the panel will be Royce McWhater, psychiatric social worker, Dr. Joseph Reidy, psychiatrist and medical director of the Astor Home for Children, and Attorney Richard Russel of the Poughkeepsie Mental Health Board, as well as Dr. Herbert Schwartz, chairman of the Kingston Jewish Community Center 1957 Forum.

Public Invited

The panelists will outline the functions of a mental health clinic, its operating procedures, survey and services rendered. They will also present a comprehensive picture of the errors, pitfalls, rewards and signposts of progress as experienced in Poughkeepsie and other clinics of a nature similar to what Kingston hopes to achieve.

The public is cordially invited to the Forum to hear the panel presentation and question the speakers with regard to the subject matter.

The Forum, this year, will again feature the most significant health subject before the community, it was reported. In 1955 the Jewish Community Center presented a forum of Salk polio vaccine and in 1956 the timely controversial discussion of the fluoridation of water supply.

Admission is free and the entire community is invited to participate at the Jewish Community Center, 265 Wall street.

74 Rebels Slain In Two Clashes

Algiers, April 18 (AP)—French military headquarters today claimed 74 Nationalist rebels were killed in two sharp clashes with French forces in western Algeria and the Algiers region. French losses were put at 14 dead and about 28 wounded.

One engagement occurred near Nedromah, a town in the desolate mountains of western Algeria bordering Morocco. The headquarters said units of the Foreign Legion, Senegalese riflemen and French marines trapped a rebel band, killing 44 and capturing 16. The French said they seized about 30 weapons, indicating some of the Nationalists escaped with arms carried by their slain or wounded companions.

Nine French soldiers were reported killed and about 20 wounded.

About 10 miles from Aumale in the Algiers region, a French convoy fell into a rebel ambush. Headquarters said the convoy fought its way out, killing about 30 rebels. French losses were given as 5 dead and 8 wounded.

Conservative Bid Is Set

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

South had bid very conservatively. A lot of players would have made some effort to get to a slam with his hand opposite an opening two no-trump.

It would not be difficult to fix up a hand for North with only two hearts and 22 points that would produce a lay-down slam. With the actual North hand and favorable breaks a slam would still come in.

As it was, bad breaks, alert defense and a bad guess resulted in the defeat of the apparently safe four-heart contract.

South won the opening diamond lead with dummy's king and went right after the trump suit. When East discarded a spade on the second lead South saw that he had to lose two trump tricks and that his contract was in jeopardy.

He took the ace of hearts and led a club toward dummy. West ducked and dummy's king held the trick. The ace and king of spades were played and a club discarded. A third spade was trumped and the last club led.

West ducked again without a quiver. He knew that South could go up with the queen, ruff out a club and make five odd but he also knew that if he played the ace South would make his contract.

Now South had a real problem. Someone held the ace of clubs. Who was it? Either West had ducked twice or East had ducked once. He finally decided that East was the man with the ace and played dummy's ten.

East pounced with the jack and led a fourth spade. South ruffed and West overruffed. West cashed his high trump and led a diamond. South allowed this to ride toward his jack but to no avail. East's queen of diamonds set the hand.

Hedgerows Attract Songbirds to Farms

Washington, April 17 (AP)—If you're a farmer who would like to have more songbirds on your land, plant hedgerows of multaflora rose or other shrubs.

So suggests the Agriculture Department's soil conservation service after experimenting in nearby Maryland. Such fences serve, the service reports, to hold livestock in pastures and to add significantly to the populations of songbirds on the farm.

The survey showed that tartarian honeysuckle could be used to increase the number of birds in the living fences and multaflora roses the greatest number of species.

Husband Insists Missing Wife Is Still Alive

Detroit, April 18 (AP)—Leonard Ewing Scott, facing charges of juggling his wealthy wife's money and murdering her, says she is "alive and either being held against her will for profit or suffering from amnesia."

Scott's 63-year-old wife, the five times married Los Angeles socialite Mrs. Evelyn Throsby Scott, disappeared from her swanky home two years ago. She was not reported missing until a year later and no trace has been found other than some personal effects in the backyard of her home.

Scott, sought 11 months by the police of two countries, was apprehended Monday at the Canadian end of the International tunnel that connects Detroit with Windsor, Ont.

He is in jail here awaiting an extradition hearing May 7.

Dairy Farmers Vote To Quit Master Guild

Long Valley, N. J., April 18 (AP)—Some 80 dairy farmers in Morris county last night decided to withdraw from the Tri-State Dairy Master Farmers Guild.

A spokesman said the dairy farmers, members of Unit 3, quit the Guild because of disagreements with the Rev. John W. Dorney, executive secretary of the Guild, and his policies.

Some 50 dairymen attended the meeting at Schooley's Countain Community Center.

Dorney had urged the farmers in a letter to drop out of the Guild. He said he would come to the meeting to explain the efforts of "other organizations with the assistance of a few of last year's officers to undermine the Guild."

Louis Prang, a Boston lithographer, introduced Christmas cards into the United States in 1875.

Leo Perlis, director of the AFL-CIO's Community Services Activities, said medical societies "appeared to be more concerned with getting full payment for each Salk shot administered than with the wholesale prevention of poliomyelitis."

Leading issues gained fractions to around a point. There were plenty of losers in about the same range but the list was up on balance.

Some selected issues made fair gains but there was little group activity. Oils did fairly weil but steels were mixed, motors showed scant change and leading rails showed a string of small gains.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 30 cents to $178.40 with industrials up 30 cents, the rails up 50 cents and the utilities unchanged.

On the American Stock Exchange prices were generally higher in moderate trading.

Corporate bonds were narrowly lower in quiet trading.

U. S. government bonds improved slightly in slow transactions.

White House Expansion

Washington, April 18 (AP) — President Eisenhower favors expanding the White House grounds for construction of a new office building for future Presidents. Eisenhower's ideas along these lines may touch off controversy. One always seems to boil up whenever anyone suggests physical changes around the White House. The President's thoughts on the matter were outlined yesterday by Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, who emphasized they still are tentative.

Judge Commits 'Mad Bomber' to State Hospital

New York, April 18 (AP)—Kings County Judge Samuel Leibowitz today committed mad bomber George Metesky to Matteawan State Hospital for the Criminal Insane.

Judge Leibowitz ruled, however, that if Metesky should recover his sanity he must be returned to Brooklyn to stand trial on charges of attempted murder and other counts.

The judge held that Metesky, who already has been reported dying of tuberculosis with perhaps only months to live at most, is suffering from schizophrenia of a paranoid type and is incapable of conferring properly with counsel to defend himself in court.

The judge said Metesky is only superficially able to understand the charges against him.

Bellevue Hospital psychiatrists had testified that Metesky was legally insane.

Kansas City, April 18 (AP)—More than 160 persons were routed early today in an apartment house fire which fire officials said was of a "suspicious nature." No one was injured, although two persons were treated after being overcome by smoke. While firemen were at work on that fire at 3501 The Paseo, another broke out in the basement of an apartment building across the street. It was quickly extinguished.

WITNESSES AT PROBE—Helen Canfield, friend of convicted dynamiter Paul Bradshaw, tells Senate rackets investigators in Washington how she secretly recorded conversations by Scranton, Pa., union officials in an effort to prove him innocent. Egypt Rejects Suez Plan for UN Submission

Cairo, April 18 (AP)—The newspaper Al Akhbar said today Egypt has rejected a U. S. proposal that Egyppt and the United States join in submitting the Suez question to the UN Security Council. Al Kahbar said the United States asked Egypt to join in the action so that both sides might report on progress achieved thus far in talks in Cairo.

Akhbar said Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi informed U. S. Ambassador Raymond Hare of Egypt's decision, and Hare relayed the information to Washington.

President Eisenhower told his news conference in Washington yesterday the United States had decided to delay handing the Suez problem to the security council. Eisenhower said talks in Cairo have made progress and hinted Egypt might offer new concessions in further conversations.

Brooklyn GI Is Found Guilty of Army Desertion

Poiters, France, April 18 (AP)—An army court-martial today found guilt of desertion a Brooklyn soldier who left his post in World War 2 and later fought with the French Foreign Legion in Indochina and Algeria. The soldier, Pvt. Vito Sala, pleaded amnesia.

The court discounted the plea of amnesia by Sala, who disappeared from the American army at Heilbronn, Germany, in April 1945.

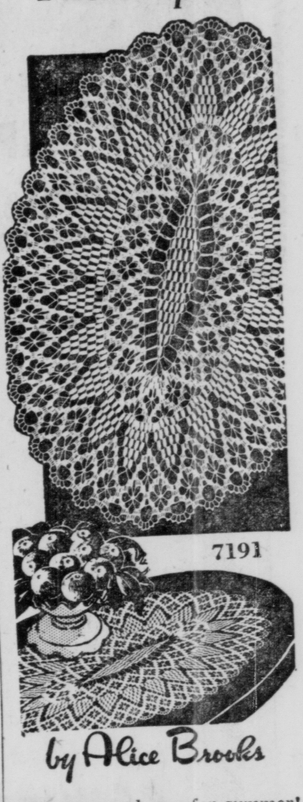

During the trial Sala claimed he regained his memory while serving at Dien Bein Phu, Indonesia. He was decorated by the French, who gave him the Croix De Guerre.

The court deliberated 30 minutes in reaching the verdict. Sala showed no emotion when it was announced.

Recess Threatened

Washington, April 18 (AP) — Congress members faced today the need to untangle a Senate-House snarl over a bitterly-disputed money bill before they could get out of town for a long-awaited Easter vacation. The principal item of concern in the legislation is 275 million dollars of federal grants to states for May and June relief checks to needy aged, dependent children, blind and disabled persons. Both the Senate and the House have agreed on that provision, but disagreement on other items has blocked action for the last two months.

The Mature Parent

Why Fraternity Can Be Drag On a Teen's Development

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

A father has taken me to task for disapproving of fraternities.

Referring to my recent comments on them, he says, "One of the freedoms Americans enjoy is choosing their own friends. Why shouldn't a group of young people be permitted to join with those of their preference and enjoy themselves as the majority prefer? Don't you choose your own friends?"

Indeed I do.

But my friends do not choose my friends.

That's the point of my objection to fraternities — they DO choose a member's friends for him. The moment he joins one, he surrenders that American freedom to exercise his individual judgment on the desirability of a friend—and lets his fraternity brothers make the judgment for him. He trades the right to think for himself for his group's acceptance.

This exchange between the fraternity and your teen-age child is a drag on his development.

It's his special problem that he's already terrified of individuality. This is because he's at the point of growth where he can no longer trust what we think with his old childish confidence—nor has he lived long enough to know what he thinks himself.

In this chaotic state, he clings to what the group thinks as a drowning man clings to a life raft. He feels unsale unless he wears what the group wears, goes where the group goes and thinks what the group thinks. At this period of his development, any difference from it threatens him terribly.

If I love him, I understand this. I accept his dependence on his group—but I do not glorify it.

I don't applaud his joining a fraternity. I don't act as though his lack of individuality were wonderful. I don't treat his state of moral feebleness as a permanent one but treat it for what it is—a temporary state, a step in his progress toward maturity.

When we insist on glorifying the teen-ager's fear of being different, we can maroon him in a state of permanent adolescence. We can turn him into one of those "Yes" men who never develop any clear identity of their own.

We have no more right to encourage adolescent dependence on the group than we have to encourage the infant's dependence on his bottle.

Things were going very well in their courtship. After he had kissed her and pressed her rosy cheek against his and patted her soft, round chin, she drew back and asked:

Ethel—George, did you have a fresh shave before you left home?

George—No, I was in too much of a hurry.

Ethel—I thought so. Your face is about the roughest I ever—

Then she stopped—but it was too late. George went away with a cold, heavy lump in his breast like a half-dozen undigested dumplings and he never got up enough courage to call again.

Lawyer—What do you do for a living?

Witness—I'm a salesman.

Lawyer—A salesman, eh? How important do you think you are to society?

Witness—Not very, I'll admit, but I'mb doing better than my father did.

Lawyer—What was he?

Witness—A lawyer.

Kitchen Sessions Become Popular On Farm Problems

Ithaca, N. Y., April 18 (AP)—New York farm families are combining the modern coffee break and something of the traditional town meeting in efforts to deal with 1957 problems. Overalls in the chowder, so to speak.

"Kitchen Konferences," discussion groups of 6 to 12 couples to help make policy for the New York Farm Bureau, are spreading rapidly in the state.

"It's hard to get people out to larger county-wide meetings," the Farm Bureau explains. "And after they get there, a few people do most of the talking, while most sit and listen.

"Once the meeting breaks up, everybody tells his neighbor, 'my idea is . . .'"

There now are 285 Kitchen Konferences meeting monthly to recapture the ideas lost in these "after-the-meeting buzz sessions."

Such local questions as assessments, zoning and county sales tax often are up for discussion. The state and national issues most frequently examined include price supports, school financing and overall government spending.

Groups Are Informal

Coffee and cake or sandwiches sometimes spice the sessions, which may be held around farmhouse kitchen tables. The groups are informal, without regular officers or by-laws.

The Farm Bureau, which claims 9,500 members in the state, says it gets "an excellent cross-section of farmer opinion" through the conferences.

"People are glad to travel a few miles to meet with their neighbors," a spokesman points out.

The Farm Bureau feels that the groups' decisions weigh more than answers to questionnaires, which it says bring about snap judgments. It adds, "when 10 or more people agree on a decision after much discussion, you can be pretty sure it is a sound one, not made in haste."

Farm Churn Does Disappearing Act

Washington, April 17 (AP)—The farm churn is rapidly disappearing from the agricultural scene.

An agriculture department report today on farm production, disposing and income from milk in 1956 showed that farm-churned butter decreased to the lowest level in department records. Totaling 149 million pounds, it represented 9 per cent of the nation's total butter production.

While midwestern dairy states produce the bulk of the creamery butter, southern states produce most of the farm-churned butter. The leading farm-churned states were North Carolina, Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee, Georgia and Virginia.

Farm-churned butter once was an important commercial product. Today most of it is produced for home use on farms having only one or two cows.

The report placed cash receipts from marketing of milk and cream in 1956 at $4,469,000,000, an increase of 6 per cent from the previous year and second only to the record high of $4,567,000,000 in 1952.

Largest increases — averaging 8 per cent—were reported for north central and south central states. The smallest—averaging 3 per cent—were reported for northeastern states.

The department said the nation's dairy cows produced an anual average of 6,066 pounds of milk last year, the highest of record.

The use of milk produced on farms last year was about evenly divided between fluid and manufacturing uses. Forty-seven per cent was used in making manufactured products, including butter, cheese, dried milk, etc.; 2 per cent was used for farm-churned butter and the remainder was used for fluid consumption.

WALLKILL NEWS

Church Notes

Wallkill Reformed Church Notes: On Thursday there will be an elder's meeting in the church hall at 7:30 p. m. Holy Communion will be celebrated at 8 p. m. in the traditional Maundy Thursday Tennebrae service of the Last Supper of the Reformed Churches. The Rev. Walter N. Van Popering will administer the Sacrament and the choir, under the direction of Jack Henderson, will provide the musical background. Mrs. Louise Didsbury will be at the organ.

The choir will present its Good Friday service of Music Friday at 8 p. m. when it will sing the Crucifixion by Stainer. Soloists will be George Alsdorf of Walden and Charles Selzo of Kingston, both members and soloists of the IBM Chorus. This is one of the most solemn and beautiful portraits in music of the Lenten Passion season, its unruly mobs shouting for the Crucifixion of Jesus and Christ's Victory over the Cross.

Easter Sunday will begin with the sunrise service at the Shawangunk Reformed Church at 7 a. m. The Rev. Harvey Noordsy, pastor of New Hurley Reformed Church, will bring the Easter message to the congregation.

Following this at 8 a. m. the Young Adult Group will hold its annual Easter breakfast in the church hall.

At 10 a. m., the Easter lesson will be given in the Sunday school classes and the Lenten Self-Denial Offerings will be received from the children. Superintendent Fred C. Terwilliger will preside over the opening exercises.

At 11 a. m. the Easter morning worship service will be held at the Reformed Church with the Rev. Walter N. Van Popering bringing the message to the congregation. The choir will open the service with a processional and the anthem will be Arise—Shine for the Light has Come. Mrs. Louise Didsbury will be organist and the choir will be led by Jack Henderson.

Miss Mary Dubois has announced that anyone not yet contacting her, should do so as soon as possible if they desire to put flowers or plants in the church for Easter Sunday or to make a monetary donation for flowers.

Scouts Place Emphasis On 2 May 11 Dates

Wallkill, April 17—At a southern District Boy Scout meeting Monday night, emphasis was placed on two important events scheduled for May 11 in Kingston. Announcement was made by Eugene Johnson, assistant Scout executive of the district.

One event is the Baden-Powell conference for Junior Leaders which will be held at Forsyth Park, Kingston, from 1 to 5 p. m.

Every patrol leader, senior patrol leader, crew leaders, Scoutmaster, Explorer advisor, and assistants and all Scouters may attend. This will be a conference type program. It is suggested that paper and pencils be brought along with uniforms, patrol flags and good ideas.

Reservations should be made immediately to Rip Van Winkle Council, 260 Fair street, Kingston.

On the same day, the Cub Scout Leaders Pow Wow will be held in the Evangelical Lutheran Church, Kingston.

Scouting Discussion Held at Roundtable

Wallkill, April 17—An interesting and profitable round-table discussion on various phases of scouting, especially Cub activity was held Monday at a meeting of the Southern Ulster District.

The event took place in the community rooms of the Valley National Bank with Wallkill's Troop 76 and its committee as hosts to more than 30 adult leaders and committeemen.

Moderator of the evening was Eugene Johnson, assistant Scout executive of the Southern District. Many aspects of scouting were discussed and question and answer periods held.

Mr. Johnson provided a running commentary on a Cub Scouting film depicting its benefits and organization in a community.

A skit demonstrating the purpose of a Board of Review and the type of questions asked of a Scout advancing in rank was held. Mr. Johnson posed as a Scout appearing before the board for first class advancement. Chairman of the inquiring body was R. C. Gendreau, Rip Van Winkle Council Advancement. Aiding him in the "interview" was C. E. Smith, New Paltz, and E. T. Seely, Wallkill, both advancement chairman of their troops.

Robert Corey of New Paltz, spoke on district leadership training and traced plans for the coming year. He commented upon the valuable Schiff course he had taken.

The meeting opened with Terry Terwilliger, Troop 76 bugler, playing "To the Colors" as E. D. Seeley, Troop 76 Junior assistant Scoutmaster, carried the flag to the meeting hall. Concluding the session, refreshments were served by the home troop committee under leadership of its chairman, Fred C. Terwilliger.

Southern District's May meeting will be at New Paltz with Troop 77 in charge.

Women Forge Ahead

Moscow (AP)—Women are moving into the big jobs in the Soviet Union. The Communist Party magazine "Kommunist" said women now comprise 53 per cent of all specialists with higher education, including more than ten thousand with degrees of bachelor or doctor of science. In addition women hold 2,209 seats in the Supreme Soviet and Supreme Soviets of the various republics and more than half a million seats in local soviet (government) organizations.

Pilgrims Gather In Jerusalem

Jerusalem, Israeli Sector, April 18 (AP)—Foreign pilgrims began gathering in Jerusalem today for visits to holy places over the Easter weekend.

Groups of 34 from Denmark, 30 from Italy and 20 priests mostly from Canada arrived at the Israeli port of Haifa yesterday aboard the liner Messapia.

This year's Easter tourist season is the poorest in years. Only about 1,500 foreigners had arrived in Israel or Jordan by Monday to make the pilgrimage to the holy places. Last year the number was 15,000.

The slump is attributed to the tense Middle East situation since the Sinai fighting, the fact that the lifting of a U. S. ban on travel to the area came only this month and too late for organized group travel and the recent political upheaval in Jordan.

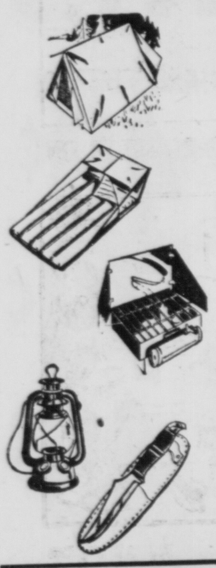

Most crossings to the Jordan-held old city of Jerusalem, site of the chief shrines, will be made tomorrow, Good Friday.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

Looking over the old newspapers I ran across this item in the Kingston Freeman and Journal of Friday, March 14, 1924; perhaps some folks remember it. "Tuesday morning, an accident which might have caused serious injuries was narrowly averted at Kerhonkson, when one of the large pine trees on the school grounds broke off owing to the strong wind and crashed through the side of the wall of the school. The blackboards were broken in and the teacher was almost hit by the tree. Branches fell among the scholars but none were injured. The teacher led the pupils from the school room in good order and outside of severe shocks, all was well. Classes were discontinued at the school, while the repairs are being made."

Well, it looks now, like the little red school house will join the other good things of yesteryears, like the nickle trolley-rides to the Point and ice cream sodas. I wonder if somewhere, perhaps a one room school house will be left as a museum. In my time when I first went to School No. 13 in Port Ewen, they taught us to write in long-hand and read in the first grade. I mean long-hand, not printing, as I see many of the children doing today. I cannot get used to it, to see little tots printing letters and not writing. It must be double difficult for them, for we learned printing later, as it came naturally to us from our printed readers, our drawing lessons and such. I am not up on the latest achievements in modern education, but all I can say, I am glad I was taught the old-fashioned way and had a good teacher like Miss Bush, in Port Ewen. I realized it when I came to a larger school in Kingston, School No. 3, that I was able to catch up, in spite of the transfer. I was not one of the bright stars but I was not left back. I think I owe much of it to the training I received in the first grade in that country school. One of the most beautiful hand-writers in one of the large business houses in Kingston learned it in one of our smallest Ulster county schools. No matter how much in a rush she is, bills written by her are a work of art.

This past Saturday, April 13, learning from the newspaper adv. that the Town of Esopus schools which are up for sale would be open for inspection I dropped by to take one last look.. I was not able to go inside, but from what I could see through the windows, they looked cozy and nice with their low black-boards. I wonder what they will be sold for, and what they will be used for. The little School No. 15 down on East Main street overlooking the Hudson is one of the small school houses. They are all going up for public sale and auction at the new School Auditorium of the Common School District No. 1, town of Esopus, on the Clay road, Saturday, April 20 at 2 p. m. School No. 13 has parking facilities in the back, perhaps it will be taken over by public offices of the Town, who knows. There are two buildings there, with heat, fire escapes and everything. Perhaps in time the town of Esopus office will move there. I am only guessing but only time will tell in what direction the business section of Port Ewen will stretch.

Eden Says No

Boston, April 18 (AP)—Former British Prime Minister Anthony Eden has announced through the British consulate that he does not want any public collections to pay for his operation costs and hospitalization. Robert H. K. Marett, British consul general at Boston, issued the following statement last night: "Sir Anthony Eden is most grateful for the various offers that have been made by friends both in the United Kingdom and in the U. S. A. to raise funds to cover his medical expenses. While deeply touched by this kindness he wishes it to be known that he does not desire any such collections to be made on his behalf."

Clintondale

Clintondale, April 17—At the meeting of Rosendale Grange held Monday night there was a panel discussion on the topic, "Research in Education and Schools in the Rural Community." Mrs. Florence Minard served as moderator and members of the panel were Robert Robinson, principal of Wallkill Central School; Jerome Hurd, president of the board of trustees of Oakwood School, Poughkeepsie; Alfred Zimmerman, Clintondale board of Education; Mrs. Ira Merwin, former Plattekill school teacher and Gordon Harcourt, a senior at New Paltz State Teachers College. Members of the Clintondale and Plattekill Granges were guests at the meeting. During the evening the men staged a hat fashion show with Chester Coy and Andrew Montrola of Clintondale voted the winners.

Those celebrating birthdays last week included Lou M. Smilley, Mrs. Allison Swords, Sal Verdina, Stephen Coy, Mrs. Walter Cole, Arnold W. Terpening, Mrs. Nettie Conklin and Thad Tompkins.

The Evening Home Demonstration Unit has changed the date of the regular April meeting to April 23 to avoid conflict with Holy Week services. The meeting will be held at 7:30 p. m. in the Clintondale firehouse and new project work will be outlined.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoard Simpson have been entertaining the former's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Backman of Mansfield, Ohio.

Mrs. Richard Boland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sutton who lives at Hyde Park, had been visiting her parents one day last week and while en route home her car was forced off the road by another car and struck a tree. Mrs. Boland was injured slightly.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sutton are spending a vacation in Florida.

The annual family supper and meeting of the Friends Church was held Friday night. During the evening the reports of many of the standing committees were heard. The supper was in charge of Betty Conklin, Alida Smith, Cora Hull and Betty Walker.

Louise Harries has been named clerk of the Friends Meeting, Edith Minard, recording clerk; Marion Jenkins, recorder; Melvin Hurd, treasurer. Organists will be Joan Hull, Marjorie Sutton and Alice Van Siclen. Vida Sutton will serve as American Friend correspondent.

H. Allan Dingee will sing "The Psalms" at the Clintondale Friends Church on Easter Sunday. Alice Van Siclen will serve as organist. The Easter sermon will be given by the Rev. Jesse Stanfield.

Mrs. Karl Mathiesen has been spending a week at her home here.

Historical Society Discusses New Book

Woodstock, April 18 — Plans were discussed for the forthcoming publication of Neva Shultis' book "From Sunset to Cock's Crow," at a special trustees meeting of the Woodstock Historical Society last Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Louise Zimm in Lewis Hollow. Miss Shultis' long awaited book contains a wealth of Woodstock folklore.

It was decided that the project would be undertaken at once, and Alf Evers, president of the society, arranged to interview Maurice Hamilton, who will publish the book. It was also decided that there would be a printing of 500 copies, in that a great demand for the book is anticipated. It was further decided that, after the cost of publishing the book had been met, all additional proceeds should go directly to Miss Shultis.

The question of a cover for the booklet was raised, and it was arranged that Mrs. Margaret R. Kenyon, secretary of the Historical Society, would go to Benedictine Hospital in Kingston on Wednesday, April 17, to interview Miss Shultis, who unfortunately has been ill in the hospital for some time. Miss Shultis' wishes in the matter of a cover were to be consulted, and the results discussed at an additional trustees' meeting, which has been called for Saturday.

Budd to Double Shares

Philadelphia, April 18 (AP) — Budd Co. stockholders have authorized the board of directors to double the number of shares of the firm's common stock. The new shares, approved yesterday at the stockholders' annual meeting, will bring the total of authorized shares, at $5 par value, to 10 million. A company spokesman said there are no present plans to issue the new shares. Edward G. Budd Jr., president of the firm, which manufactures stainless steel bodies, said earnings for the first quarter of 1957 will "be entirely normal" although lower than the earnings for last year's "extraordinary first quarter," which was the best in the company's history.

Wool Production Expected to Fall Off Again in '57

Washington, April 17 (AP)—The government's incentive payment plan for wool is failing to achieve a goal of encouraging greater production.

The Agriculture Department predicted in a report on the national wool situation that production will decline again this year. Last year it fell slightly below the previous year's level. The United States imports a part of its wool needs.

Acting upon the administration's recommendations, Congress enacted in 1954 a new wool program authorizing use of payments to encourage farmers to produce more wool. It replaced a price support loan program under which stocks had accumulated in the government's hands because of high price levels.

The payment plan is patterned after a controversial farm plan advanced in 1949 by the Truman administration secretary of agriculture, Charles F. Brannan, but rejected by Congress.

Under the wool plan, producers get government payments in addition to regular market prices received for their wool.

Officials said a shortage of sheep is one barrier to increased production.

Is Ordered Committed

Abilene, Tex., April 18 (AP)—A former air force major who flew reconnaissance for the atomic bomb raids on Japan was ordered committed to a veterans hospital yesterday for treatment of a mental disorder. Two psychiatrists testified that former Maj. Claude R. Eatherly, 38, is insane. The testimony was given in a hearing to determine if Eatherly was capable of defending himself against charges of burglarizing post offices at Avoca and View, Tex., in April 1956.

Port Ewen Corps Seeks More Awards in '57 Competition

Sporting new uniforms and marching to the beat of sparkling new drums, the Port Ewen Drum and Bugle Corps—the "Colonial Cavaliers"—will seek new awards during 1957 to add to those in their two bulging trophy cases.

The Port Ewen organization recently purchased tailor made red, white and black uniforms for the corps' 53 marchers. Also included in the $5,000 purchase were 10 new red drums, replacing the white ones used in past competitions.

Newest feature of the 27-year-old organization is the formation this year of a junior corps for boys 10 to 16 years of age.

Will Appear May 4

Members of the senior corps are training the youngsters for future service with the senior squad. The juniors will make their first appearance May 4 when they'll march in a parade at Saugerties. Forty boys from the 60 under consideration will make up the corps.

Throughout the year the corps practices three nights a week, four hours each night. Marching drills are held usually at the Hercules Powder Company parking lot. Friday night is reserved for music practice.

Shaping a drill corps for competition is a delicate and complicated process. Everything must be perfected to a preciseness in which even a single second's error could spoil an entire routine.

The "Colonial Cavaliers" have seven different kinds of bugles in their midst—eight first soprano, four second soprano, four third soprano, three first baritone, two third baritone, two bass baritone and six alto. A similar variety classifies the drums.

Weeks of Practice

For weeks and weeks the bugle teams practice the numbers planned for the season's competition. They work in separate groups. When the songs are known thoroughly, the musical groups are combined and the long marching practice begins.

A drum and bugle corps doesn't have the benefit of manual signals to aid it. Everything is done by musical tempo and beat. A single shift in tempo can be the cue for a whole new routine, and every man must know what to do when the changes come.

Last season the corps made 35 public appearances. At each contest they had 15 minutes to present their program.

At a signal from an All American Drum and Bugle Corp Association judge, the corps crosses the starting line playing their variety of popular dance and classical numbers. They execute their marching patterns according to the musical cues learned during their long hours of practice. While on the field they must be in motion at least eight minutes and present a minimum of three minutes of concert.

Close Schedule

This season the Cavaliers will head for the finish line playing "Please Don't Talk About Me When I'm Gone." Turning on the line they will shift to "So Long for Awhile." The idea is to finish their tune and step backward off the field just as the judge's final gun is fired. They're judged according to how closely they fill their time limit.

The corps' highlight is its sponsoring the annual "Pageant of Champions" June 15 at Dietz Memorial Stadium.

Th Cavaliers, who can't compete in meets they sponsor, will host six other corps. Three corps have been definitely signed for this year's pageant. One of them, the "Caballeros" from Hawthorne, N. J., are the perennial champs.

This is the third year for the pageant, and the Caballeros have won it both previous times. Two corps that will appear with them will be the "Connecticut Yankees," from Stratford, Conn., and "Skyliners" from New York city.

Bad weather cut the attendance at last year's pageant to about 7,000. It is expected, with good weather, at least 10,000 will attend this year.

Bach Leading

When they take to the field this year, they'll again be led by John Bach. Mr. Bach has been the drum major for 20 years and his six foot four inch frame is a familiar sight to drum and bugle fans throughout the region.

The "Colonial Cavaliers" represent the Port Ewen Fire Department. They were recently accepted as representatives of the Town of Esopus American Legion Post 1298 and can now compete in Legion-sponsored contests.

All the finances for the $15,000 invested in the Port Ewen Corps comes from their contest winnings and profits from the Pageant of Champions.

The corps will compete for cash awards. At the pageant, the winner also receives a trophy given in memory of Port Ewen's past members.

Ike to Fly South

Washington, April 18 (AP) — President Eisenhower flies south today for an Easter holiday at the Augusta, Ga., National Golf Club. The President arranged to travel aboard his private plane, Columbine III, for 10 days to two weeks of relaxation with work. This is Eisenhower's 15th trip to the Augusta golf club since his election to the presidency in 1952.

Proposed Junior High Questions and Answers

This material has been prepared under authorization of the Board of Education of the City School District of the City of Kingston. Its purpose is to acquaint the voters of Kingston with pertinent information relative to the proposed junior high school and to answer any questions they may have concerning its need, cost, construction and location.

QUESTION: Has the board of education secured the services of more than one architect for building the Dietz Stadium School?

ANSWER: Yes, the board of education has secured the services of Augustus R. Schrowang of Kingston, and the firm of Sherwood, Mills and Smith of Stanford, Connecticut.

QUESTION: Does this mean that the board of education must pay a double architect's fee?

ANSWER: No, the board of education pays only the standard fee which is required in all standard architect's contracts. The standard fee is shared by the two architectural firms.

QUESTION: Is this an advantage to the board of education?

ANSWER: Yes, the board of education feels this is an advantage because it has the experience and advice of two firms who have built a number of schools. The board feels they will profit from this experience.

QUESTION: What schools have these two firms built in recent years?

ANSWER: The firm of Sherwood, Mills and Smith have built the following schools in recent years: Baldwin Avenue School, Meriden, Conn.; Ramapo High School, New Jersey; North Street School, Greenwich, Conn.; Elementary School, Sharon, Conn.; Veterans Park Elementary School, Ridgefield, Conn. They have a staff of 30 men, and have built some 40-50 schools.

Augustus R. Schrowang supervised the construction of the following schools: West Hurley, Woodstock, Accord, Rosendale, St. Peter's School—Rosendale.

QUESTION: Have the teachers had a part in the planning of the proposed Junior High School?

ANSWER: Yes. Early this year your Board of Education authorized Dr. Earl F. Soper, superintendent of schools, to appoint an Educational Building Committee composed of teachers, administrators and a representative from the school maintainance department. The committee was selected on a volunteer basis and given full power to make recommendations, suggestions and criticisms in items of educational program which would be housed in the new school. This committee has met a number of times as a full committee and in sub-committees with both architect Augustus R. Schrowang and Mr. Smith of the architectural firm of Sherwood, Mills and Smith.

Membership on the committee is as follows:

Administration: M. Clifford Miller, Stephen Hyatt, Robert S. Macdonald, Earl F. Soper.

Special Teachers: Music, Leonard Stine; Art, Holland Foster; Home Economics, Mrs. Bella Crook; Shop, Hubert Hoderath; Science, DeWitt Wells; Nurses, Mrs. Anna Young; Physical Education, G. Warren Kias; Supervision, Mrs. Marian P. Gregory.

Classroom Teachers: Miss Adiska Conro, Mrs. Thelma Schwab.

Buildings and Maintenance: Richard McLean.

Faces Embezzlement

St. Louis, April 18 (AP) — St. Louis police last night arrested John G. Murray, 40-year-old manager of a Potosi, Mo., loan company, on his brother's complaint he had embezzled $30,000. Murray was picked up in downtown St. Louis, where he had arranged to meet a business contact. Police said they found a loaded gun in the glove compartment of his car. They booked him as suspected of carrying a concealed weapon. Robert Carr, Washington county prosecutor, said a warrant charging embezzlement was issued at the request of Murray's brother, Herman Sklar of Bonne Terre, Mo., owner of the Washington Finance Co.

Phone Workers Sign Medical Benefit Pact

A new group program of hospital and surgical-medical benefits for the 22,000 active and 1600 retired employes of the New York Telephone Company in upstate New York was announced today following the signing of agreements by a union-management committee in Albany.

The new plan will become effective June 1, providing that 75 per cent of the employes have enrolled. About 600 active and retired employes in Kingston and vicinity are affected by the plan, and enrollment will begin immediately.

Payroll Deductions

Called "Health Service," the new plan will be operated in cooperation with the Blue Shield-Blue Cross program and will make available uniform benefits at uniform rates based on the health experience of telephone employes, for all employes throughout the territory. Premiums will be paid through payroll deductions authorized by the employes.

The plan will supersede present arrangements, under which telephone employes are participating in a variety of Blue Shield-Blue Cross plans whose benefits and rates vary widely as determined by general health experience in the various localities.

The program is the result of months of study by the joint union-management committee and representatives of Blue-Cross, Blue Shield and Health Service, Inc., a subsidiary of National Blue Cross.

Sign Contract

The contract was signed in the company offices at Albany by Mrs. Clarissa H. Cushman of Albany, president, Upstate Telephone Employes Association; Miss Helen M. Ernst, Corning, president, Telephone Commercial Union; W. H. Klingle, Binghamton, president, Empire State Telephone Workers Organization; Miss Marie C. McGaughn, Albany, chairman, general committee, Telephone Traffic Union; O. T. MacMillan, company vice president, Upstate; S. W. Cooper, general traffic manager; E. W. Wyatt, trust officer of the National Commercial Bank and Trust Co., Albany, and Ralph Hammersley, Jr., executive director, Blue Cross-Blue Shield, representing Health Service, Inc.

DAIMLER-BENZ CURTISS-WRIGHT Studebaker-Packard

These three companies employing 107,000 people, with sales in 1956 totaling one billion, two hundred sixty-six million dollars, announce the signing of agreements providing for a fully-integrated program of engineering, production, sales and service of automotive vehicles; automotive, marine and industrial gasoline and diesel engines; and diesel and gasoline fuel injection systems. All of these companies have been associated for years with quality, precision manufacture and high-performance products.

Pursuant to these agreements, Daimler-Benz and Curtiss-Wright have formed an American company—Curtiss-Wright and Mercedes-Benz, Inc.—to provide for the development and sale of Daimler-Benz products in the United States, Canada, Mexico and Cuba.

Studebaker-Packard Corporation in signing the agreements will now make available to its dealers a full line of domestic and imported sports cars, convertibles, sedans and station wagons—ranging in price from under $2,000 up to $13,000—gasoline and diesel powered trucks and all-wheel drive utility vehicles.

Mercedes-Benz cars and distinctive Mercedes-Benz features—such as fine coachwork, swing axles and transmissions—will be exclusive to Studebaker-Packard.

The Utica-Bend Division of Curtiss-Wright Corporation, now building diesel engines for the U. S. Navy, will import and manufacture Mercedes-Benz diesel engines and diesel and gasoline engine fuel injection systems under the agreements. The engines will range from a 4-cylinder model of 25 h.p. to a supercharged 8-cylinder model of 600 h.p.

Further agreements are being negotiated between Daimler-Benz and Curtiss-Wright Corporation for the interchange of rights for the manufacture of aircraft products.

By FRANK TRIPP

We receive a message from dear old Will Gardner once every hour during the part year we live at Glenora-on-Seneca. Will was our neighbor and caretaker. He died at 85 on July 25, 1951.

Frank Tripp

No, we are not of the occult, nor does Will appear to us hourly as a specter. Yet he speaks to us at half past every hour—on the dot. He would chuckle if he knew how it has come about.

One of his chores that he enjoyed was tinkering with a grandfather's clock, keeping it on time and wound. It is an old clock, yet not of the kind run by weights. Its eight-day works contain mammoth springs, key wound through holes in the face. Will loved it.

Its striking apparatus got out of kilter years ago and finally its task of tolling out the hours and half hours for as long as two weeks on a single winding, settled into only the one stroke at half past the hour. This challenged Will, but he never got it fixed.

MATHEMATICALLY it figures that originally one winding produced 2,520 strokes of the chime. Therefore, theoretically, striking only once each hour, one winding should last 105 days.

But you have my word that, on Will's last winding, the old clock still is striking at half past the hour, after almost seven years. It really is about three active years, since the clock now runs only during the months that we live at Glenora.

It is eerie because that striker spring has not been wound since Will lost his leg, well before his death in 1951—unless Will's good fairy winds it.

Reverently, I pasted a plastic cap over the winding keyhole when Will went to the hospital—to let the old chime die with him. The cap still is in place.

There is, of course, a mechanical explanation; there has to be. But we often remark: "Will says that it's half past three."

OLD CLOCKS and watches ever have been cherished family heirlooms. Two precious ones are among my souvenirs; my mother's and my father's watches.

Mother earned hers before I was born; by giving lodging to a young pack peddler when he passed through Breesport. That pack peddler, A. Roseman, became one of the leading diamond importers in New York's Maiden Lane.

Mom also earned Pop's railroad watch. In a deep depression of the 90s, the railroad condemned my father's clumsy silver key-wound engineer's watch.

WORK WAS SLACK and there was no jackpot for the unemployed. Mother took in washings to buy the gold-filled Railroad Elgin that now hangs in state, under a glass dome, on our sun room mantel.

It guided thousands of passengers to safe destinations. It still is guiding me. It is a symbol of thrift and caution, from days when stalwart, self-reliant people worked out their own salvation.

It reminds me, every time I'm tempted to get cocky and throw my weight around of my mother's favorite admonition:

"Remember, boy, you're born, but you're not dead yet!"

Nor are those who are depending upon boom times, easy credit and government to see them to the grave.

Starting May 1 Late Used Cars Must Pass Test

Albany, N. Y., April 18 (AP)—Beginning May 1, all used motor vehicles four years old or less will have to pass the state's safety inspection standards if sold or transferred.

The new inspection program basically covers vehicles that are more than four years. All of the older cars have to pass a checkup sometime this year if their owners want to keep them on the road.

However, the law also covers newer models when they change hands. This is the provision that goes into effect next month.

In this group are the 1953 and newer models. No license plates will be issued to the new owners unless the car bears a valid inspection sticker.

Under the law, all such cars sold by dealers on or after May 1 must bear a sticker. If the vehicle is sold by a private owner, regulations do not say whether the buyer or seller should have the car inspected. But the new owner must have the sticker in order to get his plates. Meanwhile the basic inspection program continues. The State Motor Vehicle Bureau currently is mailing notices to owners of 1946 models that they will have to pass inspection in May.

Rug Tells History

Maquoketa, Iowa (AP) — The hooked rug runners which cover the stairway risers in the farm home of Oscar Skott near here are made up of pictures which show highlights of the farm's history. Skott's sister, Mrs. Margaret Siders of Maquoketa, made the pictorial rug and the story begins with settlement on the farm by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Skott, in 1866. Other pictures show the original farmhouse, its successor, the rock garden began in 1871, the first team of mules purchasd in 1890, the building of the first silo in 1903 and the coming of electricity to the farm in 1922.

Think It Through

By E. F. HUTTON

THEY LOVE US "ONLY"

The pressure boys, who live on Uncle, say: "Shucks, all we want is only a tiny fraction of your taxes. You're not a cheap skate, are you?"

The save-the-worlders say: "We want only six per cent of your taxes. Just a teeny-weeny four billions.'"

MR. HUTTON

The safe-the-farmers want only six per cent, and the save-the-veterans only seven per cent.

But when we, suckers, for "only" add it all up, they only want seventy-two billions, or all the taxes we've been a-payin'. They don't want a dime more than all!

They love us "only."

But, neighbor, if you only make a teeny-weeny mistake on your income tax, all hands come a-runnin'. I know a simple soul who listed his charitable contributions and at the end wrote "Miscellaneous, $5." That was to cover the silver money he'd shelled out on tag days and the folding money he'd dropped into the Christmas kettles when the Salvation Army lasses gave him a pleasant smile.

No doubt he'd cheated himself, but Uncle had never heard of "Mister Miscellaneous," and demanded details. As my friend never asked the lasses for receipts or kept check stubs on tag days, he had to cough up.

"Only" doesn't work in reverse,—which convinces me that if Uncle only sweated as hard a-paying it out, as he does a-taking it in, we might have a buck left on April 15th.

Make the Most of the Season for Asparagus

FRESH ASPARAGUS has a limited season. Make the most of it with such embellishments as paprika-sour cream sauce.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

One of the wonderful things about spring is fresh asparagus. The season is not very long, so let's make the most of it.

Cooked Fresh Asparagus

For 6 servings, select 2 pounds fresh asparagus. Cut or break off each stalk as far down as it snaps easily. Remove scales and wash thoroughly. Cook, covered, in a small amount of boiling water (about 1 inch deep in saucepan) to which 1 teaspoon salt is added for 15 to 20 minutes or until just crisp-tender. Drain. Serve with one of the following sauces:

Fresh Asparagus With Paprika Sour Cream Sauce (Six servings)

Saute 3 tablespoons chopped onion in 1 tablespoon butter or margarine. Add 2 tablespoons paprika, 1 cup sour cream, ⅓ cup mayonnaise and 1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice. Season with ¼ teaspoon salt and ⅛ teaspoon ground white pepper. Serve at once over hot cooked fresh asparagus. Garnish with paprika.

Fresh Asparagus With Italian Tomato Sauce (Six servings)

Heat ¼ cup olive or salad oil in a saucepan. Add ½ cup diced onion, ½ cup finely diced green pepper and ⅓ cup finely diced celery and cook until limp and transparent. Stir in 3 tablespoons chopped parsley, 2 cups finely diced fresh tomatoes, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon ground black pepper and ½ teaspoon whole basil leaves and cook until medium thickness, about 10 minutes. Serve at once over hot cooked fresh asparagus.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Cold sliced boiled ham, or cold boiled salmon, creamed mustard, new potatoes with parsley butter, fresh asparagus with paprika sour cream sauce, fresh whole wheat bread, butter or margarine, strawberries, light cream, coffee, tea, milk.

Eruption Continues

Catania, Sicily, April 18 (AP)—Mt. Etna continued to erupt today, spilling a stream of lava slowly down a barren side of the 10,758-foot mountain. Mountainside towns far below the volcanic activity, were not in immediate danger. The current eruption is in the same areas as that of 1950 which sent millions of tons of lava pouring down the ancient peak to the 600-foot level. That eruption destroyed and damaged roads and cultivated fields.

Miss Elinor Howard Accepts Georgetown Teaching Position

Miss Elinor Howard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Kelder of 21 Brewster street, has recently been appointed an associate on the staff of Georgetown University for the scholastic year beginning in September 1957. She will teach Russian at the Georgetown University Institute of Languages and Linguistics, while completing her work for the degree of master of science in Russian language and area studies.

Miss Howard graduated in 1951 from Kingston High School and in 1955 from Cornell University, where she received the bachelor of arts degree in Spanish linguistics, with minors in French and Russian. Since that time she has been employed by the Defense Department in Washington, D. C.

Before assuming her new duties in the fall, Miss Howard will, for the second time, attend the Middlebury College Russian Summer School to study Russian literature. Thereafter, she will fly to Paris for a short vacation with her Cornell roommate, Miss Anne Morrissey of Bronxville, N. Y., who is presently the sports editor of the Paris Edition of the New York Herald-Tribune.

Guild Will Give $200 Scholarship To County Student

A $200 journalism award to a 1957 graduate of an Ulster county high school was announced today by the Kingston Newspaper Guild.

Students of any high school in the county who will be graduated in June are eligible for the scholarship, Guild President Charles J. Tiano said.

Candidates for the scholarship are required to submit examples of writing they have contributed to their school publication. This editorial matter may be a feature story, sports, general news, humor, etc.

Richard J. McCarthy, Guild secretary, and Irwin J. Thomas have been named co-chairmen of the Guild committee which will process and judge the entries.

May 30 Deadline

Deadline for entries is May 30, 1957 and an editorial board of the Guild will announce the winner on June 15. Entries should be mailed to the Kingston Newspaper Guild, P. O. Box 153, Kingston, N. Y.

The Guild in 1956 established a $100 award in journalism, in addition to the annual Van Deusen Memorial Award of $10 to a Kingston High school student. Mr. Tiano said the Guild voted to increase the award this year "to stimulate interest in scholastic journalism and to further the newspaper field as a professional career for high school graduates."

Seymour Semilof, a graduate of Kingston High School and now a journalism major at Syracuse University, was the winner of the 1956 award.

The award is one of the Guild projects financed by proceeds from the annual Page One Ball which, this year, will be held at The Barn, Route 28, Kingston, May 4.

"As newspaper people the Guild feels this is a stimulus to young people graduating from high school who are interested in journalism as a career," Mr. Tiano said.

He added that principals of county high schools have been advised of the award and are urged to invite students to enter.

It takes only 60 seconds for you to call The Freeman and give your classified ad. The cost of the ad is just about a penny a second.

A VERY AWKWARD SITUATION

A reader explains: "The other afternoon a friend came to visit me. About fifteen minutes later another friend stopped by to see me. The two women in question are not on speaking terms. When I went to the door to let the second friend in I said nothing to her about Mrs. B's being there. When she walked into the room and saw her she turned to me and said: 'I see you have company. I will stop in to see you another time' and left promptly. It was a very embarrassing situation for all. Will you please tell me if there was any possible way to avoid this situation?"

If you knew that they were not on speaking terms, when you opened the door for the second visitor you should have said, "I think I should tell you that Mrs. B. is here in case you mind seeing her" and then it was up to her whether or not she came in.

Unusual Wedding Procedure

Dear Mrs. Post: Recently I attended a fashionable wedding at which all of the two hundred guests with the exception of me, gave the bridal couple a cash gift. After the dinner, the guests formed a line and presented their envelopes to the bride as they went up to wish her happiness. I have never seen this practice and wondered if it was proper.

Answer: I myself have never encountered this but I have heard that is is customary in some communities. Correctly, when money is given for a wedding present, it should be in the form of a check or sent beforehand.

Funeral Flowers

Dear Mrs. Post: The father of one of the girls in the office has passed away and the following problem has arisen. When flowers are sent to the funeral home, to whom are they sent? (a) To the deceased? (b) To the widow? (c) To the daughter (our coworker)?

Answer: Ordinarily flowers are sent to the "Funeral of John Smith." But in your case they should be sent to the daughter.

What should the attendants and guests wear at the wedding reception? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. However, her leaflet E-6, "What to Wear at Wedding Receptions," describes clothes for all weddings. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, c/o The Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Agree to Truce

Capri, Isle of Capri, April 18 (AP)—Boatmen of Capri and landlubbers of Anacapri agreed today to a Holy Week truce in their Blue Grotto squabble. The boatmen, who for centuries enjoyed the monopoly of rowing tourists and lovers to the watery cave, earlier this week set a picket line of rowboats at its entrance. Reason for their action: A new road from Anacapri, up on the side of this romantic island, to the grotto, which is in Anacapri territory.

JCC Sets Forum On Mental Health For April 25th

The Jewish Community Center annual forum on Mental Health will be held Thursday, April 25, at 8:30 p. m. The subject this year will be Kingston's Mental Health Program, "Where Do We Go From Here."

Following the approval of the Board of Supervisors of the Mental Health Act at the local level and the appointment of a Mental Health Board, the forum panelists will attempt to outline the next steps.

Included on the panel are Royce McWhater, psychiatric social worker; Dr. Joseph Reidy, psychiatrist and medical director of the Astor Home for Children and Attorney Richard Russel of the Poughkeepsie Mental Health Board as well as Dr. Herbert Schwartz, chairman of the Kingston Jewish Community Center 1957 Forum.

To Outline Functions

The panelists will outline the functions of a Mental Health Clinic, its operating procedures, survey and services rendered. They will also present a comprehensive picture of the errors, pitfalls, rewards and signposts of progress as experienced in Poughkeepsie and other clinics of a nature similar to what we in Kingston hope to achieve.

The public is cordially invited to the forum to hear the panel presentation and question the speakers with regard to the subject matter. The Forum, this year, will again feature the most significant health subject before the community.

In 1955 the Jewish Community Center presented a forum on Salk Polio vaccine and in 1956 the timely controversial discussion of fluoridation of water supply.

Admission is free and the entire community is invited to participate at the Jewish Community Center, 265 Wall street.

True Hibernators

Bats, chipmunks, jumping mice and woodchucks are the only mammals in New England which truly hibernate during the winter months. Bears, though commonly regarded as hibernators, sleep fitfully, emerging to forage on warmer days.

Turncoat Weds

St. Louis, April 18 (AP)—Arlie Pate, turncoat Korean war prisoner who disclosed his marriage yesterday, said today it is "my first step in starting a new life." Pate, 26, first told reporters yesterday that although he had taken out a marriage license he was not married and would not be until he found a job. But later he admitted to a photographer that he and the former Barbara Jones, 17, of St. Louis, had been married for three days.

Truck Terminal Razed

Berlin, N. H., April 18 (AP)—A general alarm fire early today demolished a huge trucking terminal, including six fully-loaded tractor-trailer trucks and tons of merchandise on a loading platform and storage area. Romeo Lavigne, owner of Lavigne's Red Wing Express and the terminal, said one truck alone was loaded with $40,000 worth of gauze and bandages. He said he could not estimate the total loss immediately. But fire officials unofficially estimated the damage would run to about a half million dollars.

Stang Proclaims Observance Here Of Good Friday

Good Friday "to the Christian World is symbolic of sacrifice, and should be fittingly observed," Mayor Frederick H. Stang said in a proclamation today.

He proclaimed the day as "one set apart for the solemn observance by those to whom it is significant." He proposed prayer and meditation and suggested that all "repair to their respective places of worship for such devotion."

"The strength of our people," the mayor said, "is based upon belief in a higher power," and he noted that in the world today there are forces that would seek "to destroy the religious beliefs of our people."

The mayor also announced that city hall offices would close at noon tomorrow in observance of Good Friday.

50 Club Sponsors Variety Show For CP May 15th

A variety show headlined by Peg Leg Bates, television and night club dancing star, will be held May 15 at 8 p. m. at Kingston High School Auditorium, sponsored by the 50 Club for the benefit of United Cerebral Palsy of Ulster County, Inc.

Mr. Bates, who owns and operates a summer hotel and night club at Kerhonkson, is well known throughout the country for his many performances on the Ed Sullivan television show.

He has performed at many charitable events in the area since making his residence at Kerhonkson and in accepting an invitation to appear here May 15 said, "I am delighted to be invited by the 50 Club of Kingston to appear at their benefit show for cerebral palsy. Shows for worthwhile causes always have been close to my heart and I know the public will be very pleased with the acts we have lined up for the CP show."

Among the performers already signed are the nine La Falce brothers of Poughkeepsie, winners of Arthur Godfrey's Talent Scouts, who have recently recorded an album for Jubilee Records, a collection of favorite American folk music. The album is entitled, "Campfire Songs."

Court Evicts Cat

Mineola, N. Y., April 18 (AP)—Miltown, a young Siamese cat, has been evicted by the State Supreme Court. Said Miltown's untranquil owner, Howard Swift of Great Neck: "I am amazed at the temerity of the landlord in using the Supreme Court of this state for the purpose of ejecting one little pussycat from the home of the people who love it. This little pussycat stays in our apartment, does not growl, bark or make other unseemly noises and he's housebroken." Nevertheless, Justice Cortlandt A. Johnson ruled yesterday, Swift violated his lease by bringing in a pet. "This will break the children's hearts," said Swift.

Holy Week Services Listed

Old Dutch Church

On Holy Thursday evening, April 18, at 7:30 o'clock there will be a special evening service at the Old Dutch Church, Wall and Main streets. The Sacrament of Holy Communion will be administered, and new members will be welcomed into the fellowship of the church. The title of the message, delivered by the minister, the Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool, is "Near the City."

On Good Friday evening, April 19, at 7:30 o'clock a special service has been arranged. The story of the Passion will be told in music by the Boys' and Girls' Choir, the Young People's Choir, and the Senior Choir. The selections to be sung are: Were You There, by the Boys' and Girls' Choir; three selections from the Messiah, Behold the Lamb of God, He Was Despised, and Surely He Has Borne Our Griefs, by the Senior Choir, as well as the anthem, Go to Dark Gethsemane, also by the Senior Choir. The Young People's Choir will sing God So Loved the World, from The Crucifixion.

The message, "The Victory of the Cross" will be given by James C. Mosher, assistant pastor.

Alliance Church

The Christian and Missionary Alliance Church, corner of Franklin and Pine streets, will hold its annual candlelight communion service Friday at 7:45 p. m. The choir, assisted by the male quartet, male trio and various soloists, will present a special musical program depicting the life of Christ.

Dr. Julian Bandy, former pastor of Dr. Billy Graham, will deliver the sermon on the subject "His Cross and Ours." At the conclusion of the service communion will be observed.

The public is invited to attend the service.

Trinity Lutheran

On Good Friday at 1 o'clock the Trinity Lutheran Sunday school will present a special Sunday school program in the church under the direction of Vincent Skura. Processional Chopin Funeral March, Donald Romme MA, at organ; German prayer, Ich bin klein, Barbara Steudten; Hymn, Rock of Ages, Confirmation class; Recitation, His Promise, Linda Baechtle, Cheryle Phillips, Mary Jeney and Dorothy Eymann; Song, The Old Rugged Cross, Junior Choir; Poem, Before Thy Altar, Jesus My Saviour, Judith Miller; Chant, Sleep Jesus Dear, Wake Again Easter Morn, Donna Williams, Donna Terpening and chorus of 30 children; Reading, The Dogwood Tree, Miss Sophie Schmidtkonz; Semonette, the Children's Altar, the Rev. Frank L. Gollnick, DD. This program was arranged by Miss Sophie Schmidtkonz, superintendent of the Primary Department. The public is cordially invited to worship at this most sacred service.

Redeemer Church

The Holy Week and Easter schedule at the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Wurts and Rogers streets, includes three services of Holy Communion; the traditional Holy Thursday service, a Good Friday Communion service, both at 7:30 o'clock in the evening and a special administration of the Sacrament following the 10 a. m. festival service Easter Day for those who work evenings and are not able to attend the Holy Week services.

Thursday's service will include the reception of members into the congregation and the 1957 Confirmation Class will receive their first Communion as a group. The postor, the Rev. David C. Gaise, will administer the sacrament, assisted by the Rev. William C. J. Weidt, and will give the communion meditation on the theme, The Bread of Life.

The Good Friday evening service will provide an opportunity for a service of meditation for those who have communed on Thursday evening, since the preparatory service is scheduled to follow the general prayer before which those not communing may leave the church. For the Good Friday service all adornments are removed from the chancel and the altar brassware is draped in black net as a symbol of penitence and mourning. Pastor Gaise will present a meditation on the topic, "What Men Saw on Calvary." He will be assisted in the service by the Rev. Paul M. Young Sr., of Rhinebeck.

The final service of communion will follow the later Easter service. There will be a nursery available in the Parish House for young children of communicants at this Easter service.

Heinz Burmester, Lay Visits chairman of the Lutheran Evangelism Mission, has announced that there will be a meeting of all visitors in the assembly room immediately after the service Holy Thursday.

Sees Instrument Sales Up

Waltham, Mass., April 18 (AP)—Prediction that the nuclear instrumentation market alone will rise to a total of 135 million dollars by 1963, compared with 10 million in 1955, was made today by W. O. Faxon, president of Tracerlab, Inc. Faxon's estimate was made as Tracerlab, a pioneer in the field of peaceful use of atomic energy, dedicates its new $1,900,000 east coast plant. Faxon said the rise in production would be in response to "an accelerated reactor building program as well as to new applications for atomic energy uncovered by research now in progress."

World News in Brief

Denies Family Rift

Washington, April 18 (AP)—Edgar Eisenhower says "a breach in our family is the last thing that could ever develop."

Edgar, the President's older brother, also said last night:

"I want to make it very plain there are no differences between my brothers and me. We can differ on a friendly basis and no rancor is involved."

He caused quite a stir earlier this week when he was quoted as criticizing the size of the President's budget.

Approves Cuts

London, April 18 (AP) — The House of Commons has approved the conservative government's decision to trim the British armed forces and rely on nuclear weapons for defense.

Speaking just before the House voted down a Labor party motion of no confidence 309-258, Prime Minister Macmillan said the new defense plan will take some of the teeth from Britain's contribution to the Atlantic Alliance but will not reduce the striking power of British forces.

Jordan Chief Ousted

Jerusalem, Jordan Sector, April 18 (AP) — Official sources said today King Hussein has accepted the forced resignation of Maj. Gen. Ali Abu Nuwar as chief of staff of Jordan's army.

Nuwar's ouster, reported without confirmation several times since last weekend, would further cement Hussein's control of the army, whose support kept him on his throne through the political storm that erupted last week.

The monarch appointed Maj. Gen. Ali Hayari to succeed Nuwar, the sources said.

Benefit Unknown

Boston, April 18 (AP)—The doctor who operated on former British Prime Minister Anthony Eden said today "it is too early to determine the ultimate benefit that will be obtained from the operation."

Dr. Richard Cattell, who operated on Eden for a bile duct obstruction last Saturday, also said in a morning bulletin that "it is impossible to predict whether there will be a recurrence of the obstruction."

Youth Leader Will Address Nazarene Church

REV. ALBERT STIEFEL

A district youth leader and well-known minister of Beacon, the Rev. Albert Stiefel, will be the speaker at the final service of the Holy Week series at First Church of the Nazarene, Elmendorf street and Wiltwyck avenue, Friday at 7:30 p. m.

The program will feature gospel songs and hymns about the cross of Christ.

Elected to Who's Who

The Rev. Mr. Stiefel is a graduate of both Eastern Nazarene College and the Nazarene Theological Seminary and was elected to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" in 1949. His experience in organizing one new church and as district youth leader, gives him a wide background from which to draw. His message will be inspirational as well as devotional, dealing with the last hours of the Life of Christ on earth, according to the Rev. E. E. Herron, pastor. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Three Are Hurt In Two Accidents

Three persons suffered minor injuries in two vehicular accidents overnight, another driver miraculously escaped injury when his car failed to negotiate a curve and turned over on its roof and a 16-year-old youth was arrested on a charge of malicious michief in the setting of a number of grass fires in the Napanoch area late last month.

Drivers Get Summons

Area state police issued summons to two drivers involved in the accidents, charging endangering speed.

Injured in a three-car collision on Route 208 about six miles south of Ireland Corners late Wednesday afternoon were William C. Gooderham, 54, of Gardiner, who suffered abrasions of the knees and elbows, and Dominick Caputo, 49, of Poughkeepsie, who suffered abrasions of both shins and a headache.

Trooper Wallace Mahan of the Highland state police reported that Mr. Gooderman was driving north about 5:15 p. m. when he suddenly swung into the southbound lane striking the Caputo car, proceeding south. A third car operated by Frank Volpe, Jr., 45, of Walden, also traveling south behind the Caputo car, smashed into the Caputo car.

Mr. Gooderham was issued a summons alleging endangering speed. It is returnable before Justice of the Peace Warren J. McDowell of Gardiner.

Ernest Thompson, 25, of Hudson, was admitted to the Columbia Memorial Hospital, Hudson, early Wednesday night suffering a possible sprained back and head injury following an accident in which his car failed to negotiate a curve, went off the road and turned over several times, it was reported by Claverack state police.

Troopers P. G. Dimaggio and Pat Romagnano reported that Mr. Thompson was proceeding south on Route 9 about a mile and a half south of Kinderhook when his car left the highway on the right side, struck a fence owned by Clyde Miller of Kinderhook, turned over several times and uprooted a guide wire on a telephone pole.

Escapes Injuries

The time was 7:40 p. m. Mr. Thompson was admitted to the hospital for observation.

Walter Fink Jr., 20, of Gardiner, escaped injuries at 10:45 p. m. Wednesday when his car failed to make a left curve on Route 300 in the town of Shawangunk, went off the road and turned over on its roof.

Highland state police arrested Fink on a charge of endangering speed. The summons is returnable before Justice of the Peace Seth Lippincott of Wallkill.

Frank Daiaozok, 16, of Napanoch, was arrested by Troopers M. J. Mahoney and J. R. Metzer, BCI, of the Ellenville state police, Wednesday afternoon on a charge of malicious mischief in the setting of a number of grass fires near Napanoch during the last week of March.

Held for Grand Jury

The fires were allegedly set in the area near Route 55.

The youth was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Herbert Poppel of Kerhonkson, waived examination and was held for the grand jury.

Troopers said the youth threw matches into dry grass in the area. The local fire department responded on each occasion and extinguished the fires before they could do any damage, it was reported.

Saturday Mail

ruled the suit no longer presented a live issue.

Group to Appeal

But the trade group, saying it would appeal dismissal of the case, contended it involved a "great constitutional question" of Summerfield's right to invoke an embargo against specific classes of mail.

In announcing the filing of the suit 12 days ago, Harry MaGinnis, executive manager of the association, expressed a "firm conviction that the postmaster general has no legal authority to refuse to handle any category of mail."

Summerfield replied at the time that his department's legal officers had advised him "we can legally embargo third class mail," which involves mostly small merchandise and advertising matter.

President Eisenhower told his news conference in Washington yesterday he gave Summerfield "full approval" in advance to order the sweeping cuts in mail service which have now been largely restored.

Mr. Eisenhower told his news conference "it was perfectly clear" Mr. Summerfield didn't have the money to keep the postal system operating at full strength.

Small . . .

committees. He did not advocate tax relief for small corporations.

The governor yesterday signed a bill intended to make it easier for migrant laborers to conform with state motor-vehicle regulations.

It provides for temporary operator's permits, without a road test, for drivers who hold a permit in another state. It also allows them to carry liability insurance from their home state, even if the company is not authorized to do business in New York.

Harriman said Agriculture Commissioner Daniel J. Carey had endorsed the bill as a way to "facilitate the procurement of seasonal farm laborers, a vital phase of our argricultural industry."

Cleveland's Car, Museum Piece, With O&W Items

What has been called "an authentic piece of Americana" is for sale in connection with the dismantling of the defunct Ontario & Western Railroad.

It is "Car 30" used by President Grover Cleveland, and on which he took his bride on their honeymoon. Receivers of the railroad said they hoped the car, which is at Middletown, could be preserved for a museum.

Several railroad museums reportedly have inquired about purchase of "Car 30" which is described as having an interior of rich, fancily carved mahogany with ornate cutglass chandelier and a lounge which seats 12.

The car is also said to contain a spacious dining room, fully equipped kitchen and servants' quarters.

President Cleveland not only used it on his honeymoon but rode in it frequently while he maintained a home for a time in Buffalo, N. Y., one of the receivers said.

Is at Middletown

The car is in the large diesel shop in Middletown, where there are also stored a substantial amount of spare parts, including motor parts for diesel engines, signal equipment and steel cables, which are expected to sell for a substantial sum.

The road has 21 hopper cars and 31 cabooses, it was reported, which probably will be reduced to scrap.

Twenty-one diesel locomotives are on lease to the New York Central System at $25 each a day.

Chamber Hears Miss Saugerties Ball Set May 29

The 1957 Miss Saugerties coronation ball will be held at the Flamingo Restaurant on Wednesday, May 29, it was reported at the meeting of Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce Wednesday night at Saugerties Municipal building.

According to Mrs. Marzell Roming, chairman, the search for the 1957 Saugerties queen begins this week when nomination blanks will be distributed in most of the stores in the Saugerties business district.

Reception Slated

The reception and pageant where the judges will make their choice will be held Saturday, May 25 at a place to be announced. The deadline for nominations is Saturday, May 11. The contest is open to unmarried girl residents of the town of Saugerties, 16 years of age and over.

The new Miss Saugerties will make one of her first public appearances as queen in the Jaycees Fourth of July parade.

The membership also approved entering two cars in the Saugerties VFW Loyalty Day parade May 4. One car will carry Miss Saugerties, Lauretta Tierney and the other, Chamber members.

Two new members accepted were John Kaminski of Mt. Marion representing Aluminum House and J. R. Baliotti representing Paper Products Inc., of East Bridge street.

Additional study was authorized to the sign committee to erect a sign at the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge exit directing traffic to the Saugerties shopping center.

Dexter Dinner Reported

Robert Levintan reported on the Ulster-Greene vacationland testimonial dinner given recently to Harris E. Dexter of Central Hudson Corporation. His report about a suggested selling point—the historical background of the area—stimulated a long discussion which brought about the appointment of a committee to investigate the possibility of compiling information on historical or other points of interest in the Saugerties area.

Chamber President Thomas W. Reynolds Jr., who presided appointed Andrew Vozdick, chairman; William Rising, Joseph Bosco and Mr. Levintan.

Following a discussion on the community college proposal for the area, a resolution was approved that the Chamber endorse the community college proposal for Ulster county.

Bridge Promotion

In conjunction with the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge opening ceremonies a suggestion was approved to hire a plane with a streamer advertising Saugerties. The plane would be hired to fly over Kingston during and after the ceremonies.

Mr. Kaminski was appointed to investigate the proposal.

Executive Secretary Albert J. Cawein reported for Vice-President Willett C. Overbaugh, chairman of the membership committee, that letters of invitation to the Chamber are being prepared and will be mailed next week. A membership breakfast will be scheduled and a one day campaign of prospects will be conducted that day.

Some Workers Return

Paris, April 18 (AP) — French rail and subway workers began to trickle back to their jobs today but the country's transportation system remained hamstrung for the second day of a two-day strike. Rail services to foreign points operated unevenly but passengers stayed away in droves. They apparently didn't have any faith in arriving at their destinations. The wave of transportation strikes ends tonight at midnight. The workers demand 10 per cent pay hikes; the government offered 2.5 per cent.

Saugerties Trips New Paltz and Wallkill in Triangular Meet

Roeser, Dragon Set New Records For Sawyers

Ed Roeser and Johnny Dragon set new Saugerties High's school records in the 880 run and discus, respectively, as the Sawyers won over New Paltz and Wallkill Central in a triangular track meet at Saugerties.

Saugerties won first place with 52 points. New Paltz was second with 46 and Wallkill third with 20 points.

Roeser reeled off the 880 in 2 minutes, 15 seconds for the new record, while Dragon's heave of 118 feet, 3 inches is another all-time Sawyer figure.

New Paltz captured six of the 10 events—sweeping the dashes, high jump, broad jump and low hurdles.

Back Injury Imperils Stan's Playing Streak

St. Louis, April 18 (AP) — Stan (The Man) Musial, injured iron man of the St. Louis Cardinals, may miss a game for the first time in six years tonight.

"I won't damage myself physically or hurt the club just to keep that streak going," he said.

Musial injured a muscle in his back sometime during the opening day game at Cincinnati but it wasn't disclosed until last night.

Musial has 775 straight games behind him—only 47 short of Gus Suhr's record—but he never has been too enthusiastic about the streak, calling it "just something I got myself into."

Detroit's Jack Tighe in Stew

All Is Bitter For New Skipper

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

If things keep on like this, Detroit's Jack Tighe may remember his first year as a manager in the majors as the season he nursed a split lip from start to finish.

The stubby, 43-year-old coach turned manager is a worrier. He collected troubles all through spring training, when his "improved" Tigers were supposed to be picking up "a winning habit" but lost 19 of 29 exhibition games—11 of them one-run failures.

It was during that disappointing spring span that Tighe sat in the club's Lakeland, Fla., hotel headquarters, trying to forget and relax over a dry martini. Instead, he worried right down to the olive, interrupting a conversation with a visitor to dab at his lower lip with a handkerchief.

Sun Did It

"The sun cracked it open," he explained. "And it hasn't healed. Everytime we get a runner to third, I bite the doggone thing open again."

Now, with two games gone in the American League season, Tighe's troubles are still with him, and so, presumably, is the cracked lip.

His Tigers picked up the wrong habit in the exhibitions. Twice they have lost to the Kansas City Athletics, and twice by one run. Opening day it was 2-1, yesterday 5-4 in the only game played in the majors due to rainouts.

At the start, it looked like Tighe might be able to give his lip a chance yesterday, when ex-Tiger Ned Garver walked two, hit a batsman and then gave up a three-run double to Ray Boone in the first inning. But the A's then had themselves a ball with Jim Bunning and Duke Maas, both leading candidates in Tighe's search for a No. 4 starting pitcher.

Routed in First

Bunning failed to last the first inning, giving up two runs. Then Maas was belted for solo homers by Hec Lopez and Harry Simpson in the third and gave up the pay-off run that hoisted the A's into the AL lead in the fourth on Bob Cerv's triple and a single by Joe De Maestri. Little Joe, batting ninth, behind the pitcher, in manager Lou Boudreau's lineup, also singled home the winning run the day before.

The Tiger's scored once more in the fourth to chase Garver, but then managed only two more hits as Wally Burnette, a 27-year-old righthander shoved out of the A's starting rotation by an ailing shoulder, shut them out for 5⅓ innings.

In the National, rain postponed St. Louis at Cincinnati and New York at Pittsburgh in the only games scheduled yesterday.

Twaalfskill Pro Wins

Gerlak and Haggerty Tie for Pro-Pro Lead

Equal Par on Columbia Links

Alex Gerlak, Twaalfskill golf pro, and Bob Haggerty of Edison Club (Schenectady) fired spectacular birdies on the 18th green to give their teams first place ties with par 70s in the Northeastern PGA's first tournament of the season, a Pro-Pro affair at Columbia Country Club at Claverack.

Gerlak chipped in from off the green for his birdie, as he and Eddie Brown, host pro, staged a 3-3-3 finish against par of 4-3-4 for a 35-35-70 score.

Bill Schaaf, North Adams and Haggerty were two under par at 33 out but slipped on their second trip and needed a 30-foot birdie putt by Haggerty, former PGA president, on the 18th.

Ties At 73

Tied for next spot at 73, were teams of Bob Smith, Wolfert's Roost, and John Gaucas of Van Schaick Island and Alex Sinclair, PGA District champion from Mohawk and Guy Farina of the Nick Stoner links.

Other scores:

Scotty Robertson, Onteora and Joe Sondey, Red Hook, 37-37-74.

Tim Gagen, Schuyler Meadows, and Frank Madden, Albany, 38-36-74.

Frank Stuhler, Antlers, and Jack Maxwell, Stamford, 37-38-75.

Jim Murray, Amsterdam, and Bob Tuthill, Sacandaga, 38-37-75.

Hoover Keeps Masters Crown

Fort Worth, Tex., April 18 (AP) — Dick Hoover of Akron, Ohio, who learned to bowl as a pinboy, today reigned as the American Bowling Congress Masters champion for the second straight year.

Hoover, beaten once in the double-elimination tournament came back strong last night to defeat Bill Lillard of Chicago in two consecutive matches to take the championship. It was the first time in seven years of Master's play that a champion has won twice in a row.

He beat Lillard 910-768 in the first match, but cooled down to 853 in topping Lillard's 767 in the second match.

Gallant Man Has New Chance At Bold Ruler

Gallant Man, an Irish colt owned by a Texan, gets another crack at Bold Ruler Saturday, and his trainer said today "I believe this Irishman will earn a trip to the Kentucky Derby."

A field of from seven to nine is expected to start in the $50,000-added Wood at Jamaica, final major New York preview for the May 4 Derby. Bold Ruler, owned by the Wheatley Stable, is expected to be a 1-2 favorite.

Johnny Nerud, who trains Gallant Man for Ralph Lowe of Midland, Tex., said his colt "doesn't have to win the Wood—just run a good race—and we'll be off for Louisville."

Gallant Man was bred by the Aga Khan and was a minor sensation in Florida before running into defeat in the Bahamas Stakes won by Bold Ruler at Hialeah Jan. 30. He had won four straight, including the Hibiscus Stakes. He finished fourth in the Bahamas, back of Bold Ruler, Gen Duke and Federal Hill—all top Derby contenders.

"That was only seven furlongs, and I think the longer the race, the more chance we have," Nerud said.

Sportsmen Vote Use for Funds

Wawarsing Sportsmen's Association voted at a recent meeting to rescind a prior vote requesting the Board of Supervisors to allocate the annual appropriation of $1000 for the purchase and stocking of fish.

The Wawarsing decision is in line with action taken by many other member clubs of the Federated Sportsmen's Clubs of Ulster county.

It was proposed to use the entire trout fund where most needed for the repair of trout stream flood damage and for use by a federation committee with discretionary powers to see it was used for conservation purposes.

The Trap committee reported early completion of a trapshooting range on the grounds with an eye toward seeking the annual Federation championships this year.

A Pitchers' Union?

Ford Reveals Exchange Of Pitching Secrets

New York, April 18 (AP)—Whitey Ford, the southpaw ace of the world champion New York Yankees, today disclosed in a first-person article in a national magazine that major league pitchers swap tips on batters in the current "rabbit ball" age "to keep from becoming as extinct as the dodo."

In a story titled "American Pitchers' Union" appearing in True Magazine, Ford describes a "grapevine system" in which pitchers exchange notes on the weaknesses of certain batters, both during the championship schedule and during the off season, as an answer to "hopped-up balls, pulled-in fences and lighter and livelier bats."

The stubby lefthander, whose 81-28 won-lost record gives him the best winning percentage of any active major league pitcher, noted the major's anti-fraternization rule in the article—a "rediculous rule" in his opinion—and said "Maybe I'm destroying organized baseball by writing this article, but I sure don't think so."

Got Book On Dropo

Ford used Walt Dropo, now with the Chicago White Sox, as the prime example of how pitchers join forces to stop a hitter.

"When I came to the Yankees in July, 1950," said Ford, "everybody was running around trying to find a way to stop Dropo (then with the Boston Red Sox). * * * he was leading the whole league in batting and runs batted in, and he was right up there in home runs * * *.

Good, Solid Union

"* * * the pitchers from the seven other American League teams started comparing notes on their experiences with Dropo and exchanging tips on how to handle the big guy. By September the 'book' on Dropo had been pretty well set, and he was no longer feared. Dropo, we pitchers discovered, could hit any kind of pitch that was inside the strike zone. But—one pitcher quickly told another—he would chase balls that were just a little off the plate * * *.

Ford, who won 19 games last season and led American League earned run averages, said the pitchers exchange notes each time they meet, passing along the latest word on hitters at each season series.

And he added:

"Don't think, incidentally, that hitters don't do the same thing with pitchers."

Logart-Ortega To Go 12 Rounds

Syracuse, April 18 (AP)—Welterweights Isaac Logart and Gasper Ortega are scheduled to box 12 rounds May 10 instead of 10 rounds as originally planned.

Promoter Norm Rothschild said yesterday the State Athletic Commission had rescheduled the bout for the longer distance because of the possibility that welter champion Carmen Basilio may vacate the title. Basilio said last month he was interested in moving up to the middleweight division."

Rothschild said the commission had agreed that the winner of the Logart-Ortega bout would be the logical contender for a championship elimination match with Tony De Marco, former welterweight titlist.

Right Source

San Diego, Calif. (AP)—A police prowl car drove up at 11 p. m. to a fashionable residence where a teenage party was in progress. "We've had a complaint about the kids making too much noise," an officer told the man of the house. "I know," he said. "I'm the one who complained."

Glasco AC Wins Tie Breaking Dartball Game

Fred Davi's Glasco AC dartball team defeated the Glasco A's 2 to 1 to break a second place tie in the Saugerties Dartball League standings Wednesday night at Centerville Methodist Church hall.

Completion of the games set the stage for the league play-offs between the 2, 3, 4 and 5th place teams. The winner will meet the 1957 pennant champions, Ruby in the annual Saugerties Dartball League series May 6 at Centerville fire hall.

Scheduled in the quarter-finals Monday night are fifth place West Camp and second place Glasco AC and fourth place Quarryville will play at the court of Glasco A's.

Semi- Finals Monday

The winners will meet in the semi-finals Monday, April 29.

The annual dartball league banquet will be served by the Auxiliary of Centerville Fire Company prior to the all-star and series games.

Banquet ticket deadline is Monday, April 22.

The all-star game will consist of the chosen player from each team in the league. Ruby the champs will provide two players to make up two teams of eight players each. To be eligible an all star must have played at least 70 league games.

Sandy Proves Tartar for Webb

Chicago, April 18 (AP)—Spider Webb, third ranking middleweight contender, discovered last night he is pretty much of a sucker for a left.

Unranked Randy Sandy of New York nearly left-hooked his way to one of the biggest ring upsets of the season.

Webb was awarded a unanimous 10-round decision in the Chicago Stadium televised scrap with the boos of 1,362 ringside fans ringing in his ears.

It was a savage, action-packed brawl from start to finish and both fighters at the end were smeared with blood from eye cuts.

The official results: Judge Harold Marovits 49-44, Judge John Bray 47-44 and Referee Bernard Weissman 47-46.

Ample free parking is provided near the company's new location, he said.

How to Cheer Dad

Philadelphia (AP)—A father in suburban Melrose Park wished he hadn't been evesdropping on his seven-year-old daughter. The girl was showing a playmate some clay ashtrays she'd made at school. Her chum was so impressed she exclaimed: "These are wonderful! When your father dies, you can make his tombstone for nothing."

Lovellette Goes to Rochester Royals

Hot Rod Hundley Also Involved In Big Trade

St. Louis, April 18 (AP)—All-America Rod Hundley of West Virginia starred again yesterday—this time in an off-court role—as National Basketball Assn. owners jockeyed in the league's annual draft of college talent.

Cincinnati owned first pick yesterday and was expected to take 6-8 Charlie Tyra of the University of Louisville.

But the Royals didn't pick for themselves.

In a seven-player deal that abruptly changed the face of the rest of the day's proceedings, the Royals selected "Hot Rod" at the request of Minneapolis and turned him over to the Lakers, along with Art Spoelstra, Bob Burrow, Don Meinecke and Ed Fleming.

From Minneapolis, the Royals received veteran Clyde Lovellette and Jim Paxson, a freshman in the league.

Wanted By Knicks

The 6-4 Hundley also was coveted by Coach Vince Boryla of the New York Knickerbockers, who reportedly was ready to deal Ray Felix, Carl Braun, Dick McGuire and Jim Baechtold for him.

In the proposed deal, New York was to have gotten Lovellette and Paxson.

Johnny Kundla, Minneapolis coach and general manager, said he thought Hundley would develop into a serious NBA player and forget about funning in front of the fans.

Kundla and Lovellette didn't see eye-to-eye during the season and Lovellette's transfer wasn't entirely a surprise. Late this year, Big Clyde was fined by Kundla.

Other first round choices:

New York picked second and selected Tyra. Minneapolis was third and decided on Big Jim Krebbs, the stylish hook shooting center of Southern Methodist University.

Knicks Get Bonnie

St. Louis was fourth and took Win Wilfong of Memphis State, named the most valuable player in the National Invitation Tournament.

New York, also with the fifth choice, picked an eastern ball player, Brendan Mc Cann of St. Bonaventure.

Picking sixth were the Philadelphia Warriors and they liked Len Rosenbluth, an All-America from the University of North Carolina.

Giant George Bon Salle of the University of Illinois was the pick of Syracuse, choosing number seven.

Last were the Boston Celtics and they went for a comparatively unknown player, Sam Jones of North Carolina College at Durham.

Period of Grace On Motor Boat Registering Asked

Albany, N. Y., April 18 (AP)—Public Works Superintendent John W. Johnson proposes to allow motor boat owners until Sept. 1 to register their craft. The original deadline was last Jan. 1.

Johnson said yesterday he had suggested the new deadline because of a deluge of applications from motor boat owners for the registrations, which cost $1. He asked state police and local law officers to delay enforcement of the registration law until Sept. 1.

A spokesman for the Public Works Department said State Police Superintendent Francis S. McGarvey had reported he would consider the request.

Johnson said 60,000 applications had been processed in recent weeks and that all available personnel had been assigned to expedite the project.

Kingston moves into the Babe Ruth League at a time when the organization is enjoying the biggest boom in history and figures to pass the 1000-league registration mark for the first time.

President James Gilpatric's circuit is one of 16 sanctioned in the state this year. In all, some 31 states and provinces had registered at least one new league through March 10.

Meanwhile, Little League national headquarters reports an all-time high registration of 4030 leagues for the four geographical districts comprising the organization. New York leads all states with 451 leagues. Pennsylvania, cradle of the Little League (at Williamsport) has 379, New Jersey 239, Massachusetts 247, Illinois 270 and Texas 335.

Pauline Hutton, who topples tenpins at the rate of 121 per game, soared to her first "200" with a 214 in the same league. . . . Herb Kessman, the deep sea fisherman, has returned from Florida and is readying the driving range. . . . Johnny Gersch, Highland High's four-letter man is another example of the growing trend in scholastic sports. . . . More and more talented performers would rather work and get paid for it, then make athletic headlines and wind up with cheers. Gersch has taken a job and will not play baseball or compete in track, a big blow to Highland's athletic hopes. . . . • Of Men and Mice:

The New York-New Jersey baseball league hasn't launched its season yet, but Newburgh Dodger Jewels and Poughkeepsie Elks are involved in a redhot rhubarb that may cause a deep split in the circuit. . . . The argument is over playing dates. If the teams can't resolve their difficulties, the matter will go to arbitration. . . . General Manager John Babiarz of Poughkeepsie, who also serves as secretary-treasurer of the NY-NJ, unleashed a scathing denunciation of Ryan's attitude, saying in effect that several maneuvers by Ryan over the years were designed solely to keep the Jewels' Newburgh rivals—the NEBBCOS—out of the NY-NJ circuit. "Ryan has received many concessions in other years and it's about time the team made some concessions to other members of the league," said Babiarz. All of which would indicate the personal relationship between the top officers of the league is not as harmonious as you might expect.

Monty Stickles, former Poughkeepsie High School All-DUSO football player, drew rave notices for his play with the Notre Dame varsity against the Old Timers in the annual spring game. The Associated Press dispatch called the Irish soph "the best looking freshman in the game." Monty, who now scales 6-4 and weighs 215 played well both on offense and defense. . . . Howie Murdoch, the former Kingston High School footballer who has been close to the South Bend situation for many years, also praised Stickles lavishly in a letter to Dick McCarthy. Joe Doyle, sports editor of the South Bend Tribune, rates Stickles among the top sophomores on the squad and says "Stickles has the size, agility and an extra asset in being able to kick off and handle extra-point chores." Berardi Is Low Bidder on Fences

Contractor James J. Berardi, of this city, submitted low bids yesterday at a meeting of the Board of Public Works to build guard fences on sections of East Union and South Wall streets.

Berardi's bids were $768 for building 240 feet of fence on South Wall street and $660 for 200 feet of fence on East Union street. The other bidder was Anthony Costanzi, also of this city, who bid $1,008 and $840.

The bids were left with City Engineer Arthur F. Hallinan for study and recommendation.

One Bid on Roller

The Ralph C. Herman Co., of Newburgh, was sole bidder on a vibrating, portable patching roller, needed for street work. The bid was $2,940, including loading hooks and the board recommended that it be bought in order to expedite street work, and will ask the Common Council to make the money available.

The board also authorized the advertising for bids for operation of concessions at local parks and the Kingston Point beach.

To Install Lights

On recommendation of Commissioner Raymond L. Whitbeck, of the light committee, the board voted to install new street lights on Jansen and First avenues and Lawrence street, and to consider requests for lights on Larch and Cassidy streets.

Three 100 candlepower lights on First avenue will be replaced by 250-CP, and five new 250-CP lights will be installed with new fixtures. Two 100-CP lights will be removed on Lawrence street and three 250-CP lights will be installed. A 100-CP light will be removed on Jansen avenue and a 250-CP light with new fixtures will be installed.

Approve Sewer Bill

Payment of $9,939.48 to James Berardi for repair of a damaged outfall sewer on East Strand was approved, and on recommendation of the city engineer, it was also agreed to pay $902.85 due contractor V. J. Costanzi for sewer work on Pearl street, Wilkie avenue, Ringtop Road and Overlook Drive.

A petition forwarded by Third Ward Alderman Edwin Radel for curbing on Emerick street, was referred to the city engineer. Curbing would be set between Farrelly and Hazel streets.

Corporation Counsel James J. Abernethy, noted in a letter that although no deed apparently existed for Cassidy street, that the city in past years, had exercised rights there, and he felt it could act safely in installing sewer facilities there. A water line had been installed as a WPA project, he said. The city engineer was instructed to make necessary preparations.

The Terminal Building Corp., (Adirondack Lines bus terminal) was granted permission to erect a canopy on the Pine Grove avenue side of the building.

Mayor Frederick H. Stang showed members of the board state maps with details of the city's arterial route plan.

Jackson's Trial OnUnemployment Checks On Today

Trial of Clarence Leonard Jackson, 38, of Box 262, East Kingston, charged with unlawful collection of unemployment checks, opened this morning before City Judge Raymond J. Mino and a jury, and was due to continue this afternoon.

Jackson was one of three arrested in February for the same alleged labor law violation. The others were Richard Bullock, 27, of 29 East Union street, and Mayo Nixon, 51, of 7 Canal street.

Bullock was given a suspended sentence of 90 days in jail with the provision that the time be served if he failed to make restitution. The Nixon case is still to be heard.

It was indicated that each sum involved was under $100.

Attorney Joseph Avis appeared for the defendant and Robert A. MacKinnon represented the district attorney's office.

Eisenhower noted that the House had called upon him in a special resolution to point out places in his $71,800,000,000 spending budget where substantial cuts could be made.

He said he had a resurvey made of expenditures of every federal agency in a hunt for more items which properly could be reduced. The points outlined in his letter to Rayburn are the result, he said.

But Eisenhower pointed out that there is a difference between the spending budget—actual outlays of cash—and the budget for obligational authority. Much of the spending, he said, is done in one year on the basis of authority granted in previous years' appropriation bills.

Sen. McNamara (D.-Mich.) said during questioning of McHugh that he was "astonished the courts haven't indicted the man who is alleged to have paid."

McClellan told McNamara the committee staff already has "asked the FBI to give us some explanation."

"The man who paid the money is just as guilty as the man who received it," McClellan said.

McNamara: "Much more guilty."

Earlier in his testimony, McHugh had declared he got no money from contractors other than Bettendorf and "I didn't get any from the Tobyhanna job either."

The indictment alleging extortion of Bettendorf was placed in evidence.

Woman Is Victim Of Bludgeoning

New York, April 18 (AP)—A shapely young woman, her face bludgeoned beyond recognition, died today two hours after police found her lying in a lover's lane in a quiet, residential section of Brooklyn.

Police said that she had apparently been thrown out of a moving car after being beaten. There was no immediate identification.

The victim "must have been a beauty," officials said as they issued her description: about 25 years old, 5 feet 7 inches tall, a fine figure, weight 120 pounds, grey eyes and light brown hair.

Purse Missing

She was clad in an expensive full length black seal coat and blue wool dress. On her left hand was a pink glove. The other glove, her shoes and pocketbook were missing.

Police found her after receiving an anonymous telephone tip that a "woman is in trouble."

The spot is a block from a belt parkway, an express highway, in the Bay Ridge section which faces upon New York Harbor. Neighbors said the dimlit street is a favorite trysting area.

Saugerties Teacher Attends Area Parley

Mrs. Grace L. Snyder, special class teacher of Saugerties Main Street School attended the spring meeting of the special Education Teacher's Association of Eastern New York last week at Wassaic State School, Wassaic.

Charles I. McAllister, director of Education of the Department of Mental Hygiene, Albany addressed the group. The fall meeting will be held in Saugerties September 28.

U. S. Is Willing

London, April 18 (AP) — The United States says it will go along with the Russian proposal that President Eisenhower's open skies plan for disarmament inspection be launched over a limited area — if the Russians will agree to expand the aerial checkup as time goes on. Informed sources said the American willingness to negotiate for limited aerial inspection was expressed to the UN Disarmament Subcommittee yesterday by U. S. Delegates Harold E. Stassen. But the sources said Stassen made clear Russia must agree to enlarge the scope of the plan in the future. There was no indication of the Russian reaction, which presumably must await word from Moscow.

Driver Fined $20

John Joseph Brice, 19, Simmons Park, Saugerties, was arrested Wednesday by Deputy Sheriff Peter Peterson on a charge of speeding 65 miles an hour in a 35 mile zone in Port Ewen. Brice allegedly passed three cars and the sheriff's car. Before Justice of the Peace Allan Dargie of New Salem a $20 fine was imposed.

ON SHRINE PROGRAM — The Holliday Dancers, a Philadelphia group of nationally known entertainers, will appear at the annual show sponsored by the Kingston Shrine Club at the Municipal Auditorium on Saturday, May 4. This group of eight girls will be seen in three numbers. America's leading miniature revue will feature the eight beautiful girls in clever dancing, attired in exquisite wardrobes. They have played long engagements at Las Vegas, Buffalo and Philadelphia. Another feature of the show will be appearance of Cyprus Temple Band of 100 members under the direction of Jesse McFarland who will entertain at 7:30 p. m. during the opening of the show.

Fire Destroys

closed for the winter season, it was reported.

Eats Through Roof

Chief Brinks said the fire apparently started in a space heater in one of the second-floor apartments near the chimney. The smoke and fire then poured through the roof, he said.

Mrs. Lillian Phillips, Mt. Tremper correspondent for The Freeman, said she smelled "oil fumes" when she went to the post office at 7:55 a. m. to mail a letter. The fire was discovered about a half-hour later.

A call to mutual aid and the Ulster county sheriff's office was placed by Harry Eckert at 9:20 a. m., who reported "the post office and apartments upstairs are burning."

Olive Answers Call

The sheriff's office notified the Town of Olive department and pumpers were dispatched from there.

It was reported the structure was built in 1900 by Frank Ecker and was purchased by Mr. De Augusta some years ago for use as a general store. Mr. De Augusta had built apartments in the building within the last eight years, it was reported.

The fire created a traffic snarl on Route 28 for some time and firemen expressed their appreciation to William Jansen of the New York City Board of Water Supply Police who directed traffic at the scene.

Governor Sends

the group a pleasant visit to our State."

Soper's Reply

Replying to the good wishes from Governor Timmerman, Dr. Soper wrote:

"We are, of course, proud of our choir in an humble way and receive with great emotion the many kindnesses already extended by the good people of your State. We are doing our best to reciprocate in kind and extend the good wishes of our Kingston city schools to your state and you. We indeed look forward to this wonderful experience of participating in true southern hospitality."

Napanoch Inmate Turned Over to Rockland Police

John B. Carey, 22, an inmate of Napanoch Institution for Male Defective Delinquents, was remanded to the custody of the sheriff's office of Rockland county by County Judge Louis G. Bruhn today under a habeas corpus proceeding in which relator sought to be released from the Napanoch Institution. In Rockland county the officials will determine whether there are charges pending under which Carey must go to trial or whether, in the absence of such charges, he will be discharged from custody.

Carey, originally held for grand larceny in Rockland county, was adjudged mentally unable to prepare for trial and was sent to Letchworth Village. Later he was transferred to the Napanoch institution. There his I.Q. has risen from 63 to 70 under institutional care and testimony was produced by the superintendent of the institution and Dr. James A. Mathers that in their opinion, based on records of the institution and observation, Carey could be released to society.

Charles Gaffney appeared for relator, Carey, and a representative of the attorney general's office appeared in opposition.

The commitment to Napanoch was attacked as to its legality by Gaffney but following the testimony that Carey could be safely released, Judge Bruhn ruled that he should be released to the Rockland authorities and the question of whether a charge was still pending against Carey there could be determined in Rockland county. If no charge is pending he will be released.

Po'keepsie Bridge Paint Bids Due May 9

Bids are due to be opened in Albany May 9 for painting the Mid-Hudson Bridge, Poughkeepsie, it was announced today.

The state's estimated cost of $125,000, and the State Department of Public Works will act as agent for the New York State Bridge Authority in receiving the bids.

The 3,000-foot span will get a primer of red lead and a final coat of aluminum paint. The job is slated to be done by Oct. 1.

Civic Association

to be built near Route 28. If this is done, Kingston will not only not need a new junior high school, he said, "but will have a large surplus of classrooms. We believe that all angles of the educational system should be clarified before we expend the huge sum asked for."

Deals With Cost

Mr. Rider also pointed out that the estimated cost of the proposed new school was $2,667,500—$21 per square foot.

The Port Ewen School was recently completed, however, at a cost of only $14 per square foot, he said, and the new Chambers School in the town of Ulster for only $14.35 per square foot.

In event the proposed junior high school has to be built, Mr. Rider said, "we believe plans should be revised to bring costs to a more competitive level."

Would Make Repairs

He also called attention to the fact that most of the city's grade schools are almost 100 years old, the floors sagging, walls cracked, kitchens and lunch rooms in "extremely bad condition," toilets unsanitary and condemned by the health inspector. "These schools should be modernized before any money is spent for additional classrooms."

Committee chairmen presented reports as follows:

Police and firemen, A. J. Seitz; public works, Brendon Alexander parks an recreation, Bernie Singer; assessments Benson Krom, and charter revision, Eugene DeDea.

Mr. Alexander, president of the association, presided.

Fight Looms Over Cut

Washington, April 18 (AP) — President Eisenhower appeared headed today toward a contest with the Senate's Democratic leadership over funds for the U. S. Information Agency (USIA). Sen. Mansfield of Montana, acting Democratic leader, predicted the Senate not only will sustain a 26 per cent slash voted in USIA funds by the House yesterday but will cut deeper into the agency's remaining $106,100,000 budget for the year beginning July 1. In Honolulu, where he is addressing a series of GOP dinners, USIA Director Arthur Larson said he will study the House objections and "make a case" for Senate restoration of his agency's funds.

Mrs. Connelly Is Named Chairman Of Study Council

Mrs. Vincent Connelly, a member of the Kingston School Board, was appointed chairman of the School Board Institute of the Mid-Hudson School Study Council at its fourth and final meeting Wednesday night at the New Paltz State Teachers College.

She will serve as chairman of the vital educational institute for the year 1957-58.

Topic of the final meeting was, "What Is Expected of a School Board Member?"

Three Speakers

There were three speakers, one representing the teacher viewpoint, one the view of the citizen and one the view of the superintendent.

Miss Babette Davis, a teacher in the Ichabod Crane School, Kinderhook, pointed out that the board member should be ethical, honest and interested in good education. She emphasized that a board member should never play favorites or interfere with teaching methods.

Robert Hinsdale of Johnson and Hare, women's specialty store, Newburgh, representing the citizen's viewpoint, said that the school board member should be separated from organized politics, should have the respect of his community and should be willing to give a great deal of time to the work of the board. Mr. Hinsdale said also that the board member should not interfere with the administrative side of the school system.

Frank Mosher, superintendent of schools in Liverpool, emphasized that a school board member held a position of great trust and should be willing to make many personal sacrifices.

Panel Talks Held

Following the speaking part of the program, the group broke up into small discussion panels.

One point generally agreed upon was that it was not a good practice for a school board to put a new teacher on a salary above what the schedule calls for.

Fifty-two member schools are represented in the School Board Institute.

They voted unanimously last night to continue the institute again next year.

Will Open R-213 Road Bids May 16

Bids will be opened in Albany May 16 for the rebuilding of nearly two miles of Route 213 between Rosendale and High Falls, it was announced today.

About half of the 1.96-mile section will be on new location in order to straighten the road which will be 22 feet wide, paved with asphalt concrete. The state's estimated cost is $440,000.

Bids on 18 other projects will be opened on the same day, and among them, as previously announced, will be one for 1.29 miles of road connecting routes 9W and 32 west of the Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge approach at an estimated cost of $1,316,000.

Slightly more than a half mile of Route 32 will be relocated at a point near its intersection with the bridge approach road.

Largest of the other projects up for bid involves the paving of an already-graded eight-mile section of the Taconic State Parkway between routes 82 and 23 in Columbia county. Its estimated cost is $2,482,000.

27 Die in Plane Crash

Nicosia, April 18 (AP)—An official announcement today said 27 British servicemen were killed in the crash of a Royal Air Force Valetta transport plane yesterday at Aqaba, isolated British base in Jordan. Twenty four of the casualties were British army men. The other three were the RAF crewmen of the transport. The plane, which crashed shortly after takeoff from Aqaba Airfield, was bound for the RAF base a Habbaniya, Iraq.

A false alarm resulted in panic that cost 72 lives in a fire in a hall at Calumet, Mich., on Chistmas Day of 1913.

Easter Outlook: Warm and Fair

New York, April 18 (AP) — Warm and mostly fair weather was predicted today for Easter.

Church-goers and paraders will find the temperature in the 60's, Ernest J. Christie, meteorologist in charge of the New York weather bureau.

Rain and fog hampered air traffic and delayed ferry service today. Christie said there was little likelihood of fair weather until Sunday.

"It'll feel good after what we've been having," he said.

Body of Ex-Cop Found in Trunk

Joliet, Ill., April 18 (AP)—State and Will county police today hunted for clues in the gangland slaying of a former Chicago policeman, one of the Moretti brothers who figured in the sensational murder trial of their policeman brother in 1952.

The strangled, bullet-riddled and beaten body of husky Salvatore Moretti, 32, was found yesterday in the trunk of an auto alongside a lonely country road about 7 miles west of Joliet.

A few miles from the death scene is Stateville Penitentiary where Salvatore's brother, Michael, 37, is serving a life sentence for the 1951 slaying of a 15-year-old youth in a west side Chicago lot after a tavern fight.

Salvatore, a bachelor, was an auto salesman since he was fired five years ago from the Park District Police in another development stemming from Michae'ls murder case.

His body, shot twice in the head and twice in the chest, was found in the 1957 model car owned by Salvatore's twin brother, Vincent, a Chicago Park District policeman. Vincent said he usually lent his car to Salvatore, with whom he lived.

Appeal to Governors

Rye, N. Y., April 18 (AP) — Govs. Averell Harriman and Robert Meyner have been asked to help settle the three-week strike against the Hudson & Manhattan Railroad. The request was made yesterday by the steering committee of the Metropolitan Regional Conference.

Fighting in Celebes

Jakarta, Indonesia, April 18 (AP) — More heavy fighting took place on Celebes Island between Darul Islam guerrillas and Indonesian army troops yesterday. Both sides in the pitched battle were reported at battalion strength—probably 600 to 800 men each. An Indonesian government plane was reported shot down. Darul Islam is a movement of Moslem fanatics who want a religious state for all of Indonesia.
